CELEBRATES HIS 89th BIRTHDAY

W. H. Wieand, Civil War Vetera W. H. Wieand, Civil War Yeteran recently celebrated his 89th birth-day at his home in Coldwater. Al-though attacked by illness, Mr. Wieand overcame it, as he; tells in the following letter:

Coldwater, Michigan Dear Mr. Levinson:

B Dear Mr. Levinson:

I was eighty-nine years old Satyurday. I had planned quite a little activity but Mr. Don't-You-Do-It, interfered and sent me to bed, I always hated orders in the army
but learned there that the best way was to obey them. I had planned to spend part of my anniversary in my old home greeting what few old friends are left me, but had to give up the plans.

Coldwater folks did a lot to make me forget my real hard setto with my old enemy. General Bilousness. I have always beaten him and I sure think I beat him
this time.

With much respect,

Ladies Aid Society of Clarenceville Church held a pot luck lunchcon at the Church Thursday May.
