Andrew L. Moore Seeking Second Term In Senate

Pontiac Man Is Candidate For Republican Nomination For State Senator

State Senator Andrew L. Moore, of Pontiac, announced this week his candidacy for a second term. Petitions are being circulated by his friends to place his name on the ballot in the fall primaries for the Republican nomination. Senator Moore represents the Twelfth district, consisting of Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

During his two-year term at Lansing, Senator Moore has been prominent in legislative circles. He is the author of several bills that have become law and is generally regarded as an expert on taxation.

Senator Moore served on the following committees: College of Mines, Highways, Military Affairs, State Hospitals, Taxation, and the University.

He opposes a State property tax, the constitutional provision, "all laws providing for special assessment improvements, tax exemptions on all forms of securities that are income producing, and the State Tax Commission, favoring rather, review of assessments by the local courts.

Senator Moore would change the legal definition of "Cash Value," so as to make the annual return from property the major item to be considered in assessing real property. Real property, he asserts, should not be taxed beyond its ability to pay and homes and farms must not be confiscated by impossible taxes.

Mr. Moore urges the adoption of a graduated personal income tax, a comprehensive business and manufacturer's income tax and retention of the present Sales Tax with some modifications.

He would continue the gas and weight tax with a possible lowering of the weight tax. Provision should be made, he says, for retiring the Covert Road special assessment bonds if the weight tax is reduced.

Senator Moore would exempt from taxation stock, tools and machinery on farms, and merchants' retail stocks; also goods, wares and merchandise in the process of manufacture.

The present primary school fund should be increased, according to Mr. Moore, with a grant sufficient to assure a minimum program in every school in the State. Other points favored by Mr. Moore are the creation of a settlement or adjustment board with power to deal with delinquent taxes, and reduction of the cost of government to a minimum.

NEW LAW HAILED BY FARM OWNERS IN THIS VICINITY

Members of South Oakland Union No. 72, National Farmers Union, were informed this week that the President of the United States has signed the Frazier-Lemore Bankruptcy Moratorium Bill. Farmers throughout this section are hailing this act as one of great benefit. It provides, among other things, that all proceedings of foreclosure and eviction are to be stayed for six years, during which time the farmer would pay for his property on the new appraisal value on the installment plan. He would pay nothing on the principal for the first year, and a half per cent of the new appraisal value during each of the second and third years and five per cent of the appraised value during each of the fourth and fifth years, together with an annual interest charge of one per cent and pay the balance on the principal on or before the end of the sixth year.

The Union planned to hold a meeting at Wikom Thursday night and will hold a picnic at Walled Lake State Park, July 28.

Fifty persons, many of whom were from Farmington, attended the annual convention of the Steele family at Franklin, Michigan, Saturday, Mrs. O. E. Everett, sister of the Misses Ida and Zaida Steele, was hostess. There were many members present from Owosso and Ovid. Dancing and cards were enjoyed during the day.

Justice Court Scene Of Comedy In One Act With Tragic Ending

A play in one act with all the requirements of a Shakespearean comedy, but with an ending far from the lighter drama, was enacted in Farmington Justice Court one day recently with a cast picked from Farmington and vicinity.

The time was the present; the characters were a lawyer and a lawyer's wife; a husband and father charged with assault and battery; his wife, the complainant; their daughter, and a deputy sheriff.

The play All characters assembled on the scene at the appointed hour with the exception of the principal, James Season, of Farmington Township, the defendant. Judge

Farmington May Get 2nd Deputy

Deputy DeVriendt Is Covering 120 Square Mile Area

Farmington may have a second deputy sheriff to assist Joseph DeVriendt in the Farmington area. It is understood that a petition will soon be forthcoming from Farmington City Commission addressed to Sheriff Roy Reynolds and the Board of Supervisors asking for additional police help in this vicinity.

Deputy DeVriendt has been the only regular police officer in the Farmington area for more than a year and experience has shown that the work at times is too much for one man to handle. Only last Saturday a succession of accidents in a short time made it impossible for DeVriendt to handle all of them. Luckily a detachment of State Police happened to be in this locality at the time and handled one of the accidents. But for this, three men who were later arraigned in Justice Court would probably have escaped.

Deputy DeVriendt is assigned an area of 120 square miles with a population of about 10,000 persons. Although he has not complained himself, it can be easily seen that one man cannot satisfactorily patrol it, especially on weekends. In addition to answering calls, Deputy DeVriendt is so frequent in Pontiac on official business. When he is away, Farmington and vicinity is entirely without a regular police officer.

Hard Surface On Farmington Rd. Costs $266

Cost Per Square Yard To The City Is About Nine Cents

Two blocks of hard surface road were built on North Farmington road for $266, Farmington City Commission learned Monday night when Commissioner Emory Hatton, who was in charge of the project, made his report. This figure, was explained to the Commission, does not represent the total cost of the job, but the amount expended in addition to what labor regularly employed by the City would have cost anyway. Computing the cost on this basis, the cost per square yard was about nine cents.

Other municipalities undertaking similar work have found the cost per square yard to be approximately 50 cents, Commissioner Hatton said. He was of the opinion that if all labor costs were included in the Farmington report, the cost would not run over 30 cents the square yard.

The two blocks of surfacing required the following materials: 88 cubic yards of gravel, $200 2400 gallons oil, 204.00 Extra labor, 30.00

Total cost $266.00

Deducting the cost of oil, $50, that the Commission estimated would have been necessary to put on the road if the hard surface had not been built, the actual cost to the City is placed at $216.

When Mr. Season had quieted down a bit, the Judge opined that the defendant had a very nice family and wondered if he thought it right to treat it in the manner that had been his own. The accused agreed that he did have a nice family and should treat it better.

"But suit yourself, Judge, what you going to do about it?" Season shouted defiantly.

"Sixty days in the County jail," Schulte roared.

"What do you mean, sixty days?" the defendant retorted.

"Two months," his Honor explained, as the curtain came down.

Less Fishermen Indicate Return To Prosperity

Prosperity may have turned the corner. At least one sign points to that. According to Emory Hatton, of the Farmington Hardware, where Farmington residents secure their fishing licenses, the demand for permits has fallen off heavily from that of last season.

Depression and idleness are conducive to fishing, there being nothing else to do. But prosperity, work for more men and women, and less time to fish, has lessened the one's own pleasure, means less fishing.

Those who have secured their licenses and have tried their luck at fishing this season, report good catches: Bluegills, perch and bass abound this season in Oakland lakes.

Thermometers Hit 103 Degrees; Near Record

Thursday of last week was one of the hottest days in Farmington's history. Although there are no statistics available, Farmington residents, who have seen many a hot summer, declared that temperatures Thursday exceeded all previous ones in Farmington. Mid-afternoon found thermometers near the boiling point, registering as high as 103 degrees in several places. Fortunately, the excessive heat caused little more than discomfort.
