Police Telephone Book Lists All State Officers

Michigan law enforcement officers are being supplied with copies of the fourth edition of the Police Telephone Directory by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. The book contains the names, and residence and office telephone numbers of peace officers throughout the state and is designed primarily as a telephone reference list for their use in getting in touch with each other quickly, day or night, either at nearby or distant points. It is being distributed free to those state, county and municipal police officials listed in the book.

The first section of the directory lists the location, commander in charge and telephone number of all state police detachments. The second contains an alphabetical list of Michigan's 83 counties, the names of the sheriffs, and their home and office telephone numbers. Next are listed, alphabetically, the more important Michigan cities and villages, with the names of the police chiefs and their residence and office telephone numbers.

In the center of the book is a cross reference table giving rates for station to station long distance telephone calls between 36 points representative of every section of the state. There also are pages of reference to police use of the teletypewriter, a map of the Wayne county teletypewriter system, information with respect to long distance telephone-conference service, and sheets for listing frequently used telephone numbers.

Waterloo, Belgian Village

Before Napoleon's final defeat put it into every history textbook and made the phrase "to meet one's Waterloo" an English idiom, Waterloo was an inconspicuous Belgian village.

Oxygen Counteracts Alcohol

Oxygen is found to be a counteractant of liquor. The sensations caused by alcohol are likened to mountain climbers' symptoms.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB TO BEGIN CHILD SAFETY PROGRAM

With the opening of schools only a few weeks away, the Automobile Club of Michigan begins preparation for equipping with safety material more than 1,500 schools throughout the state, as a start in one of the biggest programs of child safety undertaken in its history.

For the first time, the A. A. A. Club this year is furnishing ponchos to all grade school s in its territory, along with white Sam Brown belts which distinguish the boys. This will add to patrol efficiency and guarantee uniformity of equipment for all patrols.

Military Style Appeal

"Not only will the ponchos protect these young traffic heroes from inclement weather, but this equipment, along with the belts, will provide a military style appeal to the youth," states Mr. H. O. Rounds, traffic and safety director. This should keep all patrols on duty at all times, thus increasing the interest and the vigilance of the young safety supervisors.

"The only bright spot in the traffic problem of today is the fact that accidents to children of school age have constantly been decreasing. This compares with a steady rise in injuries and deaths to children of pre-school age and to adults. Much of the credit for this excellent record must go to the schoolboy patrols, who everyday throughout the school term take their posts at dangerous or busy intersections to guide pupils on their way to school safely. Behind this movement has been the outstanding work of the school principal and teacher, who have kept the patrols on their toes," he concluded.

May 12 to 18 is education week for automobile drivers, including the sweet thing who insists on making a left hand turn without holding out her lily white hand.

General Custer, West Pointer

General Custer graduated from West Point in 1861, served with distinction through the Civil war and then took part in the Indian campaigns. He was killed in the Battle of the Little Big Horn in 1876 when only thirty-six years old.

First Universities

The first universities in the New World were founded simultaneously in Lima, Peru, and in the City of Mexico, 1551.

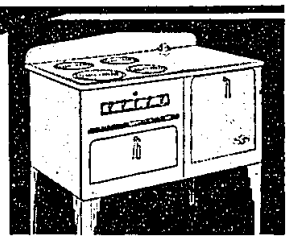
to prepare this tempting grilled meal
FOR HOT-WEATHER APPETITES!



THIS delicious grilled oven meal can be prepared with only one utensil, and consists of tomatoes, broiled ham, and potatoes-on-the-half-shell (the potatoes having been previously baked). The flavor-conserving heat of an electric oven makes the preparation of this meal far superior to ordinary methods. Flavor is sealed-in, and food values are retained. The gentle, even heat of the electric range assures the utmost tenderness in the ham, and the tomatoes and potatoes are evenly browned and cooked. This delicious meal is only one of many you can enjoy with a modern electric range—and you can try a range in your own kitchen by means of the Trial Plan.

The plan briefly is this: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, so that you may give it a thorough trial. During this trial period you simply pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today!
