

"DOMESTIC" MEN URGED TO SUBMIT SAMPLES AT FAIR

is a man's place in the kitchen?

"Yes," says Mrs. Blaine T. Colman, superintendent of women's work at the Michigan State Fair. The question arose after David Hippie, Illinois, huckster, was crowned grand champion jam maker at the Cook County (Ill.) Fair. Hippie defeated 100 contestants with his lone entry—a jar of blackberry jam. Judges say it was a truly great jar of jam in the sense that Mona Lisa is a great painting and Discovery a great race-horse.

"I am not at all surprised at Mr. Hippie's victory," commented Mrs. Colman. "Last year a Ferdinand man baked the finest cake submitted at our State Fair. Another man entered a quilt which received serious consideration from the judges."

"You can be sure that any man who wishes to compete at the Michigan State Fair, August 30 to September 8, is welcome to submit his jar of jam, batch of cookies, quilt, fancy needlework and so forth."

"All he requires is the will to win—and a dollar entry fee."

Wears a Poker Face

"In moments of agitation," said Ill. Jo, the sage of Chinatown, "I seek to appear most placid so as to afford my neighbor, Ill. Hat, no excuse for extending an irritating pretense of sympathy."

Location of Fountains of Youth
The supposed location of the Fountains of Youth is in the Bimini Islands, off the coast of Florida. Ponce de Leon stopped there in search of it. The spring to which the legend refers is still flowing there.

GREATEST CIRCUS TO SPEND THREE DAYS IN DETROIT

With one hundred double-length, silver-hued railroad cars, bearing 1600 people, seven herds of elephants, 1000 menagerie animals and 700 horses, the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus will arrive in Detroit for three performances, afternoon and evening, Sunday, August 25, Monday, August 26 and Tuesday, August 27.

The big top, seating 16,000 persons, covers seven rings and stages, a huge hippodrome track and an acre of grandstands, and is one of 31 great circuses traveling the world, and traveling too. In its center this season will be seen Col. Tim McCoy's Indian Village, with Sioux, Crow, Shawnee and Arapahoe warriors encamped. Col. McCoy, the screen's most outstanding western star, will himself lead his congress of rough riders of the world in the wild performances and in the wild west.

Seeks to Change Name Of One of 197 "Mud" Lakes

There are too many inland lakes in Michigan by the name of "Mud." The Montmorency County board of supervisors have voted, and so it is requested that the name of one of its inland lakes be changed.

Montmorency's "Mud" lake will be known as McCormick lake if a formal request to the national board of geographic names is approved. The application has been passed favorably by the State board.

There are 197 "Mud" lakes in Michigan. Montmorency's "Mud" lake would be named in honor of Michael McCormick, a pioneer.

Are Your Guides To Value

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it, its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it, all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the material that makes up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

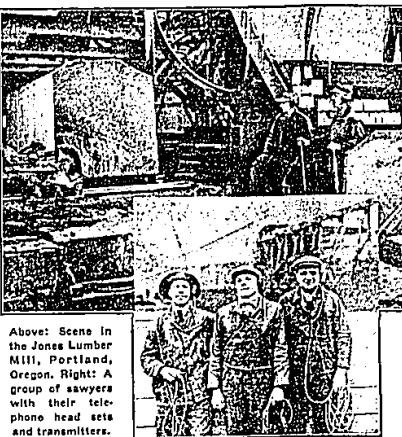

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch—knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The advertised product is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it couldn't be consistently Advertised.

Lumber Men Use Telephones in Mill To Control Sequence of Operations

Above: Scene in the Jones Lumber Mill, Portland, Oregon. Right: A group of sawyers with their telephone head sets and transmitters.

When other methods of conveying messages to the key men in this huge lumber mill proved inadequate, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company installed a small private telephone system connecting sawyers, edgermen, trimmers and others at important posts. Complete teamwork now gets the most out of every piece of timber.

At the huge lumber mill at Portland, Ore., heart of the Pacific Northwest's timber industry, thousands of feet of lumber are cut to order daily. Every moment the sawyers, edgermen, trimmers and the trimmers are at their great white giant, buzzing machines. Teamwork between them is essential, or orders will be overruled or held up, and valuable timber wasted or time lost.

Many Methods Tried

Co-ordinating their various jobs has proved quite a problem. Arm signals, light signals, vocal messages, crayon markings and other communication devices usually used in mills have all been tried and found inadequate. However, the problem now has been solved by the introduction of a small telephone system.

Head receivers and short transmitters have been set up for each of the 120 men, additional telephone stations throughout the mill and in the office have been established for the use of supervisors and foremen. In order to make the system effective, the transmitters have been equipped with anti-static equipment to overcome the constant din in the mill.

The men wear the headsets and transmitters at all times when on the job, overlaid connections with the manufacturer's product."

Watch for currant worms and white butterflies and spray the small cabbage and cauliflower plants before the worms get a chance.

More than 2,300 ring-necked pheasants have been released by the Department of Conservation in 23 lower Michigan counties so far this summer.
