The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Scholtz of West Olive, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aubrey Sr. are the bridegroom's parents.

THE BRIDE'S gown was white silk, fashioned with tiny ruffles at the neckline, wrists and hem. A satin bow and flowers held her elbow-length veil.

Mrs. Michael Hornby, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and Janet Aubrey, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid.

They were long red chiffon dresses with white yokes.

GEORGE GOODCHILD of Redford Township was best man.

For the wedding and reception in the Grand Haven Community Center, Mrs. Scholtz wore pale green silk and Mrs. Aubrey selected aqua worsted.

The newlyweds will live in Montrose after a wedding trip to northern Michigan.

Perishables
Will Be Open-Dated

The Kroger Co. has announced it will open-date some 1,300 perishable food products packed under its private labels.

Announcement of the decision was made in Milwaukee at a conference for consumer group leaders sponsored by the Center for Consumer Affairs of the University of Wisconsin Extension and the Community Nutrition Institute of Washington, D.C.

Theodore Engel, Kroger Food Stores vice president, said the date will indicate the final day which the product may be offered for sale. This "pull" or final sale date is designed to allow the product to be at high quality at least for an average usage period in the customer's home after purchase.

The program is being implemented immediately, Engel said, starting with weiners and luncheon meats, refrigerated biscuits, eggs, and margarine. By the end of 1972, he explained, 1,300 private brand perishable and semi-perishable food products packed in Kroger's own processing plants or by outside manufacturers will be open-dated.

Kroger private label food products are sold in the company's 1,400 supermarkets in 20 midwestern and southern states.
