

Is A Man 'Un-American' Commissioners Split On Expenses

EDITOR: In reference to Emory Daniels' editorial in the Dec. 15 issue, I must say I enjoyed his tongue-in-cheek treatment of Quakertown and its quest for fifth class city status. I fully realize, in this rapidly changing society, how "un-American" it is to wander from mediocrity. We must not strive to live where we want to live, on whatever size lot our housing budget allows. We must not try to govern ourselves but rather put this power in the hands of increasingly larger forms of government.

Indians Say Thanks

EDITOR: Clothing, food and toys collected by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chrusciel, of Livonia, for the Indian families have been received here at the new Berrien County Branch of Indian Enterprises Inc.

Over 200 needy families have been served in the past two weeks from this lead.

We wish to express our appreciation to the Chrusciel family and to the many kind people of your area, who have made Christmas, food and warm clothing possible for these families.

Anti-Crime Unit Lauds Tierney

EDITOR: We, the members of the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force, wish to thank and to commend Rep. James Tierney for his outstanding work on behalf of House Bill No. 4747, which would allow wire tapping, with many safeguards, in the fight against organized crime.

The work of Mr. Tierney in fighting and working for this bill in the House will, we hope, eventually result in successful

6 Adult Art Classes At Madonna

Six adult art classes will begin at Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia, the week of Jan. 9. The courses will run for 14 weeks.

Interested adults seeking non-credit art courses at a nominal tuition fee of $54 may choose any of the following:

Workshop in drawing and painting (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Monday consists of drawing in various media as a preparation to work done in oils and experimenting in water color and oil.

Oil painting, (7 to 9 p.m.) on Monday, emphasizes color-mixing, positioning and achieving depth perception.

Advanced oil painting, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Tuesday, emphasizes a more contemporary approach to composition and techniques of painting, as well as abstraction.

A basic course in acrylics, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Tuesday, bridges a beginner from drawing to painting in acrylics.

Oil painting, (10 a.m. to 12 noon) on Wednesday, emphasizes composition with the subject matter left to the student's option.

Advanced oil painting, (7 to 9 p.m.) on Wednesday, is concerned with techniques in painting landscapes, street scenes and a certain amount of abstraction. There will also be experimentation in contemporary methods of painting.

Registration will take place in the art department on Jan. 7 from 7 to 8 p.m. and Jan. 8 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Sister Angeline will answer telephone questions.

Citizen Groups To Aid County

Two citizens committees have been established by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners to help choose a new chief medical examiner and assist with reorganization of the county morgue.

The two groups are a professional credentials committee and administrative organization and public relations committee. Both will advise the board's law enforcement and public safety committee, chaired by Eugene A. Sikora, Detroit.

Referring to the professional credentials committee, Sikora said, "This group of medical experts will give us professional help in selecting a highly-qualified pathologist to serve as chief medical examiner, and we are conducting a nationwide search to locate such a person."

"With assistance from the administrative organization and public relations committee we hope to improve the administrative operation of the office, until it is one that serves the public in the most efficient way possible," he added.

The professional credentials committee, to consist of five members, will include representation from the schools of medicine from Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne State universities, plus Harper Hospital and Wayne County General Hospital.

Members of the administrative organization and public relations committee are being recruited from both public and private agencies. Funeral directors, union representatives and communications personnel have also been invited to serve.

THE COMMITTEES will begin deliberations as soon as all members are chosen. Among those who have already agreed to serve on the administrative organization and public relations committee are:

Robert White, editorial director of WJBK-TV; Wayne County Prosecutor William Chabian; and James H. Cole, Jr. of Cole Funeral Home in Detroit.

Jr. Art Classes At Madonna

Madonna College, 36600 Schoolcraft, Livonia is offering another series of eight art classes for the junior set, ages 9-14. The classes will begin Feb. 5 and will continue through April 2.

The classes will be held on Saturdays from 9:30-11:30 a.m. They will include: creative drawing, color and composition, and oil painting.

Fees are $20 for tuition, payable at registration, and $3 for supplies except for the oil painting class, where students must provide their own materials.

Registration will take place in the art department on Jan. 7 from 7 to 8 p.m. and Saturday, Jan. 8, from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Sister Aloysius will answer telephone questions.
