John Harlan, who looks back on 25 years as township clerk of Livonia township, believes that during the course of the next years the township, believes that during the course of the next years the township, believes that during the course of the next years the township dutes ministrative units. Even now, Mr. Harlah says, much of the township work has been tended to the country and in many cases the township is little more than a figureback. As an example of this, Mr. Harlan pointed to the country's taking over the care of roads, a job formerly left to the township.

The change probably has advantages and giadavantages as Mr. Harlan sees it. The advantages are that the larger units can probably do the job better than the local township unit, while the dianavantage and quits with the proposition of the

BIRTH, DEATH DATA FILING CHANGE PLANNED

CHANGE PLANNED

A new method of filing birth and death certificates in Oakland county, excluding Pontiac, to be placed in effect on or before Wednesday, Pebruary S, was announced Wednesday by Captain Friant of Lansing, representing the division of vital statistics of the Michigan Public Health department.

Captain Friant, with Dr. John D. Monroe, county heath commissioner, plans to visit the 47 registrars in the county to instruct them in the proper handling of all future certificates.

While the certificates are now filled with the registrar by physicians and go directly to Lansing. In the future they will be trained for filing.

This method will permit the development of an accurate and really valuable set of statistics on births and deaths. Dr. Monroe believe analysis of the causes of death.

Cloverdale Street Job

About 18 men will start working today on the laying of about 1,000 feet of water main on 'Cloverdale street, Henry Hatton, WPA administrator for the Farmington district, said Wednesday.

It is planned to take the men off the sewer project now under way on Grand River avenue, thus reducing the number of men at work on that project, and transfer them to Cloverdale street. Mr. Hatton estimates that about one month will be necessary to complete the laying of the pipe.
