If you're under 30

and 'on-the-way'...

why get up-tight about life insurance?

Who needs it? It seems so plastic and static. You say, "By making it today, I'll assure my own tomorrows." O.K. That's beautiful. But have you talked to any of the with-it money-makers lately? They're really creative—and they know how to use life insurance creatively. It's simply this: life insurance can be made to be a now-idea, a way of underwriting your life-style. That's what being creative with life insurance is all about. Because we can't spell it out more in this little ad, how about talking to us and pinning us down to more specifics?
