ing to have lost their titles may at present secure new ones without original liens noted on them.

Under the proposed plan, no automobile lien would be considered valid until recorded with the Secretary of State, and no discharge of a lien would have legal standing without similar recording.

The form of motor vehicle titles would be changed so as to accommodate easily noted records of title transfers, liens and lien discharges, across the face thereof.

All recordings of such data would be filed in the Department of State in the form of photostatic copies of title.

EMPLOYERS GIVEN UNTIL MARCH 20 TO FILE REPORTS

Michigan employers, granted an extension to March 20 of the final date for filing their 1935 payroll reports and contributions with the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, will be given no further extension, Frank A. Picard, commission chairman, announced today.

"Because the final date for paying the federal employer's excise tax on 1935 payrolls is April 1, it is physically impossible for us to grant any further extension to Michigan employers on their state contributions," Mr. Picard said.

"The commission must file a proof of payment for each employer with the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington in order that Michigan employers may obtain credit for their state contribution, on their one percent federal payroll tax."

The object of the proposed plan would be to further protect all persons owning or dealing in motor vehicles.

At present, it is pointed out, there is no formal method by which the discharge of a lien on an automobile at time of purchase, may later be recorded on the original title. A new title can be issued, but almost no automobile owners avail themselves of this possibility. Further, persons claim-
