MOUSE TRAPS

"If a man can write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse trap than his neighbor, though he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."

Emerson may have been preaching good business gospel when he spoke that classic, but for these more competitive times it is the bunk.

Such a man today would preach to himself, mice would build nests with his book and the path to his doorway would grow rank with weeds.

A man today with a better book sermon, or mouse trap either advertises the fact by beating a path to his neighbor; door or he lives alone and dies forgotten in the wilderness.
