NCHULTE & PARE, Attorneys, Countingham Fark, being a subdipressive State Bank Bldg. Farmington, Michigan.

MICHIGAN

THE COUNTY OF OAKLAND

THE COUNTY OF OAKLAND

LBOFOLITE Plaintiff

DATE OF COUNTY OF OAKLAND

LBOFOLITE PLANERS.

JOHN STUBER.

At a session of said Court held in the Court Mouse in the City and in the Court Mouse in the City and the Court Mouse in the City of the City post office address is 2023 McDoug-301 Avenue, Detroit, Wayne Coun-ty, Michigan.

On motion of Schulte and Parc, attorneys for plantific in a catterneys for plantific in a fini-part of the second of the second catterneys for plantific in a fini-part of the second of the second catterneys for plantific in a fini-taree months from the date of this order or said bill of complaint will be taken as confessed. ikree months to remplaint win for or said to remplaint win for the control of the

A TRUE COPY Lyan D. Allen county Clork ity Esther Meldrum Deputy

AMISBALL B. SHITH. Attended the state of the premises described in the Michaem.

DEFAMON ACE SLED made for more than thirty days in the conditions of a certain more present of the state of the condition of a certain more present of the state of the condition of a certain more present of the state of the condition of the state of the s sent or proceedings at law have been instituted at econor the been instituted at the law in the l

Decenant
the session of the session

io recover the moneys secured by asid mortgage, or any part, there is add mortgage, or any part, there is NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN. That by virtue of the power of said the statute in such date made and provided on Twenday the first that is the statute in such date made and provided on Twenday the first that the forenoon, Eastern Standard Time, the unterestinged from the control of the control of the court form the control of the court of the court flows in the Court of the Court of Oakland is highly the court of the court Addition, according to the resolvent plat thereof.

Bated September 7, 1937.

Forrest C. Dandlson,
Assignee of Mortgagee.

Attorney for Assignee of Martiney for Assignee of Martiney for Assignee of Mortgages, 116 Pontiae Bank Building, Pontiae, Michigan, Sept. 9-Dec.

NAME OF THEMMANN. Atterney, took, all chief and the state of the state

sat half of the southwest gurden of the southwest gurd

Service of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the County of the Okcland, State of the Okc building, attached to, balonging to and paintings to said premises and buildings. The said premises and buildings and buildings. Terms of saids: No person, firm to said to said property, and to bid shall be received from any pechode and the said property, and the bidder shall prior to such offer of the said property for said by me, buildings and property for said by me, check issued by some solvent liank satisfactory to me in the sum of the check issued by some solvent liank satisfactory to me in the sum of the said property and premises be said trust mortgage, and condition to the said property and premises be said trust mortgage, and condition in the said property and premises be said trust mortgage, and condition to the said property and premises be cerms of this Decree, and that fall int to do so thall pay to the said said saum of 32,500,000 or the said said saum of 32,500,000 or the bonds $60,000.

JOHN S. DAYFON, Atterney, 1994

John S. DAYFON, Atterney, 1994

John S. DAYFON, Atterney, 1994

The Pichlard County on the County of the County of County of County of the 19th day of October A. D. 1977

J. Halph Glisson, having filed in 1916

J. Halph Glisson, having filed in 2017

J.

EINEES and BRITTON, Attorneys.

SERVES and BRITTON, Attorneys.

THE TREBASE COMMAND.

IN THE TREBASE COMMAND.

IN THE TREBASE COMMAND.

At a session of said Court, held at the Frobate Office in the City of at the Frobate Office in the City of at the Frobate Office in the City of at the Frobate Office in the City, of at a session of said Court, held at the Frobate Office in the City, of at a session of said Court, held at the Frobate Office in the City of the

PELTON & McGEE, Attorneys Peoples State Bank Bldg., Pontine Michigan

icolts. State Bank Bldg., ronunc, dichleran, dichleran, dichleran, dichleran, sortice OF MORTGAGE SALE Defaults having been made (and such defaults having continued for more than thirty days) in the constitution of a certain mortgage made by Herbert J. Lake and Emma Louise Lake, his wife, of Pontiac, Michikan. Io Pontiac Commercial eribed as follows:

eribed as follows:

That certain piece or purcel of
That certain piece or purcel of
That certain piece

That certain piece

County of Oakland, State of Michisun, more particularly described as:

Son's ADDITION to the City of Ponilac, of part of the least half of The City of County of County of County

MUCH A MCPHERISON, Receiver of The Sontiac Comceiver of The Sontiac ComPonilac Michigan, Michigan

Ponilac Michigan, Michigan

Ponilac Michigan, Michigan

Ponilac Michigan, Morigasee

**SLITON & MOGPF**

**MOGPF**

**JEITON & MOGPF**

Banking Co...

PELTON & MoGEE
Attorneys for Mortragee
Business Address:
Peoples State Bank Bldg.
Pontiac, Michigan.

Nov. 4-Jan. 23

1983

JOHN S. DAYTON, Attorney, 764 Penniman Ave., Plymouth, Michi-

Penniann Ave. Pymosth. Mensnn. Statz of Michigan.

Note: The Probate Court for Interest of Michigan.

In the Probate Court for Action of Michigan.

In the Probate Office in the City of Contact, in add County, on the 2th Ornitac, in said County, on the 2th Ornitac, in said County, on the 2th Ornitac, in said County, on the 2th Ornitac, in the Michigan Court of Michigan.

In the Matter of Michigan.

In the Matter of the Estate Charles of Michigan.

In the Matter of Michigan.

liquidated damages for failure on a fixed and injustified manages for failure on the part of such bidder to comply for the part of such that the part

Leah Koch (Martin)
Leah Koch (Martin)
Deputy Probate Register.
John S. Dayton.
Attorney for guardian
763 Penniman Avc.,
Plymouth, Mich.

James H. Lyncl Judge of Probate James H. Ly
Judge of Prob
Leah Keep (Martin)
Leah Keep (Martin)
Leah Keep (Martin)
Leah Keep (Martin)
Leah (Martin

Pontiac. in said county, on the 2012 days of both seed of Probate. In 17 June, 19 Ju

GODDENOUGH, ACOUSTIES, ACOUSTICS, ad litem should be appointed for the minor, unborn and unaccrating the minor in the

with the hearing upon the account of said Trustee for the year 1936:

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Trustee for the year 1936:

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Trustee for the said are hereby, set for account; and Trustee for pearing said account; and Trustee for pearing said account; and Trustee for three successive weeks prior to the trustee for the trustee for

A true copy:
By Florence Doty,
Probate Register.
Nov. 11-Nov. 25

STATE OF MICHIGAN, 1927
IN THE PROBATE COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF OAKHAND.
At a session of, said Coirt, held at the Probate Office in the City life in the City of the County of the City of

TATE OF William taswie proving May Marshall Brown Davey May Marshall Brown pan (formerly May Marshall Brown) and Union Guardian Trust Company, Trustees of said estate, having filed in said Court their second in the company of the said Court their second of the camination and allowance thereof; the examination and allowance thereof; ordered, that he stone day of December A. D. 1937 lat nino cleak in the forenose, at each of the cleak in the forenose, at each of the cleak in the forenose, at each of the cleak in the c

LEON B. HUBBAID, Attorney, Say, Bagley Street, Pontiac, Michi-San, STATE OF MICHIGAN IN THE CRUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OAKLAND BONNIE MITCHELL, Plaintiff, No. Doi:10.1006/j.jp.

BONNE MITCHELL,

PISINITE AND THE STREET AND THE ST

A TRUE COPY Lynn D. Allen County Clerk By Ruth E. Windiate Deputy

City of the Straits

The name Detroit is a French word meaning a "narrow place" or "strait." When Cadillae in July, 1701, sailed down from Lake St.
Clair and passed Belle Isle, he began to study the shores of the river, looking for a site for his furt. His expedition went down to Gresse He and spent the night there. They agreed that the narrowest part of the river was the place for the fort, and on the highest ground that afforded a strongly defensible location. Back they came up the river and Cadillae selected his sile. As We have all heard about the storm-ridden ship whose criew was half frantic for water. At list another ship came near, and they cried, "Water! water! was eperishing with thirst." "Dip down into that ocean," was the answer, for Ishing with thirst." "Dip down into that ocean," was the answer, for they were off the Amazon, which hurls its mighty flood of fresh water far out into the briny Allantic. In the same way there age may who are longing for a fresh start, a new chance, who have thelopportunity every day of their lives if they will only reach out and take it. "Every day is a fresh beginning."

Jacobean Furniture Jacobean furniture was chiefly of oak, with straight line stricture, and a sturdy, somewhat heavy appearance. Chairs had flat seels and the straight turned legs were strengthened by heavy stretchers near the floor. Carving was cut into flat surfaces. On the straight of the mental design was cut into flat surfaces. The straight of the straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the
straight of the straight

Legal Forms Of Various Kinds For the Preparation of Legal Notices Furnished Free to Attorneys

FREE/to sufferers of STOMACH ULCERS & HYPERACIDITY Willards Mossage of Relief PRICEIESS INFORMATION for

8MITH-BRADLEY DRUG The Rexall Store

UP THE LADDER 88

By R. H. WILKINSON Associated Newspapers, WNU Service,

ARIEL HARDWICK would one day be famous. All her friends knew it. They told Mariel so quite open-ty. And she agreed with them. Mariel didn't believe in false modesty. Her drawings were good and she knew it. She was the sold there was a lot of credit due her. The ton was till low as the sold the sold due her.

The top was still a long way off, but she could see it rising above the horizon, and she felt satisfied that one day in the not too distant future she'd reach (it. It was a comforting thought.

future she'd reach it. It was a comforting thought.

Other girls in Mariel's circle of friends, many of them older than she, were still wallowing in the muck of oblivion.

There was Carola Andrews, for example.

Carola was Mariel's closest friend. Mariel felt more spry for her than for all the others. For Carola had ambitions. Or did have, once. She had wanted to be a violinist. But after high school she'd given it up. Said she'd merely taken up music because it was her folks' wishes anyhow! Sour grapes. Pride. She'd had her chance and thrown it away. Hain't been willing to sacrifice anything for the future. And now—Mariel sighed again —now where was Carola! Working ing in a politician's effice in Washington. A stengarpher or something. Poor Carola.

Mariel smoothed out a clean sheet of paper and picked up her pen. She must write to Carola.

It had been almost six months ow since the last letter, three

It had been almost six months now since the last years since Carola Washington.

years since Carola had gone to Washington. The girls had kept up a scant correspondence, but Mariel knew or correspondence, but Mariel knew or over the last hour they had had together.

"You shouldn't be doing this, dar-ling." Mariel had sale.

"You have talent. Through mu-sic you can make your bid to fame. It's worth sacrificing something for."

for."

But Carola had only smiled and gone off smiling, with a look in her eyes that Mariel 14ad misunders. Carola had gone and Mariel had stuck to her earliest ambitions. She had continued to draw carolonad and submit them to editors. And Miss Hardwick.

This thought was stimulating.
Mariel smile to herself, and flushed with the pleasure off it.
It would be kind, she thought, kind and generous to write more often to Carola, to say things that the public would one day want to read, to assure Carola of her fondness for her.
When later the letters of the care of the when later the letters were exploited for the benefit of the public, it would realize what a loyal, dehad been. It would add to her popularity.

Mariel dinnes to the propularity.

uhrify.

Mariel dipped her pen.

"Darling Carola," the wrote. "It has been so long since your last letter came. I think of you often, has been so long since your last letter came. I think of you often, and of the joly times we used to have together. We were such good rirends. Perhaps you have heard of my slight success; Millie mentioned that she had written to you about it. Please don't feel for a single minute that I hink may less or you or bed superful in any less or you or bed superful in any less the same, dealing, and always will be to you. Success has meant nothing save the realization of an ambition, and even though further fame should reward my grotes, I shall continue in my present role. "I know that it must be terribly monotonous and boring for you coped up in a sturty office down there in Wannington during this hot work of the country together and." A knock sounded on Mariel's door and she stopped writing. "Come in," she sail.

The door opened, and a young man, wearing a slouch hat and a smart sport suit, entered. He loo "Are you Mariel Hardwick?"

"Yes," said Mariel.
"Well. Un

"Yes," said Mariel.
"Well, I'm from the National Weekly Journal—"

"Oh!" said Mariel. Her cheeks glowed. "Do sit down." "Thanks." The young man sat down and produced a pad and pen-old and produced a pag and pen-cil.

"It's an interview, then!" Mariet cried.

"Well, yes," said the young man.
"In a way. Do you know Carola Andrews?"

Andrews?"
"Carola Andrews? Why—yes, Why? Has she—done something?"
"I'll say she has! She's running for congress! And she'll be elected,

Why? Has she—done something?"
"Ill say she has! She? Irunning for congress! And she'll be elected."
"What?" said Mariel.
"What?" said Mariel.
"Miss Hardwick, we've learned that you and Miss Andreiws used to be preity good friends, lused to correspond. We want those letters she wrote you. Human linterest stuff, you know. We're willing to pay for them."
"What?" said Mariel.
"Miss Hardwick, that childhood friend of yours is today one of the most famous women in America. Next month, after the publication of the most famous women in America. Next month, after the publication of the most famous women in America. Next month, after the publication of the most famous women in America. Next month, after the publication of every right-thinking American. She had the rare combination of being capable and beautiful and charming all at once. She's a born diplomat. Her prefent puecess is the result of her carliest ambitions. Right now she's one rung from the top, and we're going on the rover. You're can should be the product of the product. The your chance to bid for fame. Whatever you're aiming at, ino matter what, you'll get there quicker when it becomes known you were a gifthood friend of Miss Andrews. You'll be carried along on the wave of her popularity. Miss Hardwick, said the young man earnestly, "we want those letters that Miss Andrews wrote you and we want end want the survey." It i'm make you 'tamous, Miss Hardwick. Will you sell 'em tou st'!

Trade of 5,000 Yrs. Ago

But Carola had only smilled and gone off smiling, with a look in her eyes that Mariel had misunderstood.

Caro had gone and Mariel had caroners and submit them to editors. And at last had come fars' success, a newspaper syndicate bought a drawing. Later they bought more, and still later she sighed a contract with the same syndicate to do a scheduled series.

An ewspaper syndicate bought a drawing. Later they bought more, and still later she sighed a contract with the same syndicate to do a scheduled series.

Now she had an effice of the town, and was relishing her reward. She was famous a mong her friends; sometime she would be famous to the world. And poor, Carola, who had quit in favor of a $35 at week offire, 50b way "somewhere in Washington."

Mariel chewed the end of her pen.

An idea flashed across her mind. Some day she was going to be famous. The would be famous to the world and poor, Carola, would be famous to the world and poor, Carola, who had quit in favor of a $35 at week offire, 50b way "somewhere in Washington."

Mariel chewed the end of her pen.

An idea flashed across her mind. Some day she was going to be famous to the world and power where in Washington. The callection of the gorden world and portion to Mesopotamia and have been the subject of intensive studies of the great and famous to the world are the man and the state that flame. It would be said of them that they had been, and pershaps were now, close friends of the great and famous maried to her that they had been, and pershaps were now, close friends of the great and famous to the world and pershap were now, close friends of the great and famous to the world with the cast plane with the pleasure of it.

It would be kind, she thought kind and generous to write more citem to Carola, to sty thisse that they controlled the she would be famous the proper of the world and and an and an analous during the same part of the world and the proper of the world and an antied with the as yet of the proper of the world and an antied to be a state of later phase of the Harappa culture. Those probably reached Kish between 2700 and 2530 B. C. lanother evidence of contact at this time is the occurrence of many etched cornelian beads so characteristic of Indius sites, and probably manufactured in India | During this same the contact of the

Flogging Clerk of Eton Retitres Hundreds of boys have been flogged under the direction of A. C.
Baker, school clerk of Eton, who is retitring on a pension. It was in 1909 that he began arranging for the flogthat he began arranging for the flogflog flog the his duties to see that boys report to the headmaster for flogging when this punishment has been ordered. Years ago the birching clerk began the tremendous task of recording the inames of the boys carved on the walls of the Upper school and the adjoining stalrcase.
This work he has at last completed and published.

Forced Himself to Write
Victor Hugo often forced himself to write by having a servant take away all his clothes for several hours, to keep him from becoming impatient and descriing his work.