Make Your Money Plans Now

With the prospect of a longer life growing each year, some financial planning for these later years is in order, contends Mrs. June Sears, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne and Oakland counties.

She poses the question, "What do you really want in retirement?" She suggests the answer includes financial independence with an income that continues for a lifetime. Usually takes in a decent home, good food, some travel, visits to see children and grandchildren, simple pleasures with friends and perhaps hobbies and books.

Mrs. Sears says people often have an exaggerated idea about income needs for later years, and she notes some guides to help estimate those needs. Income tax becomes a small portion of the tax paid during the working years. Social Security income is exempt and pension and insurance incomes are taxable only in part. At age 65 and over, double exemption is allowed.

FAMILY EXPENSES are lower with no children to support. Parents may know the cost of college, but they often forget that some expenses of food, clothing, entertainment and wear and tear on the house will disappear when children leave home. Older people often dress more simply and enjoy less expensive entertainment and spend more time at home.

Yule Bazaar Set

All types of Christmas wares will be sold when the ladies of Our Lady of Loretto, Six Mile and Beech Daily, sponsor their annual holiday bazaar on Sunday, Dec. 8, from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school building.

Open House Set

The University of Detroit High School will hold its annual open house for interested eighth graders and their parents on Dec. 8 from 2 until 5 p.m.

DURING DINNER — From left, Mrs. Walter Line and Mrs. Wade Brown and their husbands were dinner companions at the Farmington Community Center benefit Thursday night.

Farmington Dons Best For Party To Back Center

Farmington was all dressed up Thursday night for the community center benefit dinner dance, "A Night to Remember."

Women guests at the event in the Glen Oaks Country Club were be-jeweled blits and tuckers and the men for the most part, were in black tie.

The guest list was a who's who of Farmington business, city, township, service club, church, school and village personalities.

BUSIEST PERSON in the place was Mrs. Robert Orleans, who was something of a hostess protem. Her flowered magenta wool evening skirt made a bright splash as she hurried around the room greeting guests.

The Goodenough family, who have offered their home to Farmington for use as a community center, were all there—Mrs. Eleanor G. Spicer, in bright brocade, Mrs. George Schemm and Daniel Goodenough.

The family were joined for dinner by Mrs. Anne Mansbach, regal in black velvet.

OTHERS GLIMPSED at the gaily decorated tables were Mrs. and Mrs. LeRoy Legros, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Thayer, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Avery, Gus Trikes, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Naisbitt, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph
