Non-Juried Arts Fair Is Planned

For the first time an Outdoor Arts Fair will be part of Detroit Discovery, an annual event taking place in the cultural center of Detroit. This year's activities will take place Aug. 21 through 26.

The art fair will be held Aug. 21 and 22 from 12 noon to 9 p.m., on the Wayne State University Mall, behind the Prentiss Building on Cass Ave., between Kirby and Putnam.

Work will be accepted Saturday morning without jurying, but is subject to review by an acceptance committee. There will be some easels, but artists will be expected to provide their own equipment for their exhibitions.

No commission will be charged, but there is a $5 entry fee. Acceptable work includes paintings, sculpture, photography, metal, ceramics, weaving, jewelry, enamels and glass. Entry blanks may be obtained from Detroit Adventure, 100 W. Kirby, Detroit, 48202.

Detroit Adventure, the arts council for metropolitan Detroit, the City of Detroit Parks and Recreation Department and United Community Services, sponsor Detroit Discovery. It will include events for children and adults.

Twirling Events Set

DETROIT

Young baton twirlers and strutters will compete for trophies and medals Aug. 28 through Aug. 31 at the Michigan State Fair.

Competitions will begin each day at 8:30 a.m. in the International Grove on the Fairgrounds.

The juvenile division will compete on Saturday; junior, Sunday; primary, Monday; and senior, Tuesday. The boys' divisions will compete on Tuesday.

Application blanks are available from Michael A. Conits, Batton Contest, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, 48203. Deadline is Aug. 20. No one over 20 may compete.

College Candidates Tell Backgrounds

A housewife, a clergyman, a school teacher, a school administrator and an engineer are among Observerland residents who have filed for seats on the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees.

The election is set for Sept. 13, where three trustees will be elected for six-year terms, and two will be elected for two-year terms.

Biographical data on these people and other candidates will be printed in this and other Observer editions as the information becomes available.

MARY DUMAS

He served with the Marines in World War II, has business background and has been a substitute teacher in Detroit.

DR. GERALD COX

LEROY C. BENNETT

JAMES E. HIGGINS

REV. IVAN G. SMITH

SEEKING A two-year term in World War II, has business background and has been a substitute teacher in Detroit.

DR. GERALD COX OF 32761 Maplewood, Garden City, business education department head at Central High School for the Detroit public schools, is seeking a two-year term. Cox was runner-up for trustee at large in the 1963 Schoolcraft trustees' race.

Cox holds a BA from Michigan State University, an MA from Wayne State University and a PhD from the University of Michigan.

He has held various teaching posts including assistant professor of general business at Wayne, department head at Detroit's High School of Commerce and curriculum head at Cass Tech High School.

From 1968 to 1970 he was research assistant for Detroit schools, then was assigned to Central and is currently developing a program between IMB and Central in data processing.

JAMES E. HIGGINS, 2949 Linda, Livonia, an electrical engineer, is running for a six-year term.

A graduate of the University of Detroit, Higgins has worked with Detroit Edison for 15 years; currently he is in cost studies for the firm, and plans facilities in Northville and Plymouth Township.

A Navy veteran, Higgins operates an amateur radio station, is a member of Columbus Engineering Society of Detroit and the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers. He is a registered professional engineer, state of Michigan.

Athletic, Other Budgets OK'd

Auxiliary budgets amounting to nearly $37,000 were adopted by the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees last week.

The only discussion surrounding the budgets was an objection regarding $15,000 appropriated to intercollegiate activities from the Student Activities operating budget of $89,500.

The Student Senate originally wanted to allocate $10,000, but according to Edward McNally, vice-president of student affairs, they agreed to the $15,000 appropriation after discussing it with him.

OTHER BUDGETS included in the motion were athletics, $33,000; automotive, $1,500; college store, $72,554; cultural affairs, $25,300; and food service $80,132.

The board also adopted restricted budgets totaling more than $232,000.

Included in the restricted budget are programs such as work student, equal opportunity grants, and scholarships that require some funding from the college, but the main funding comes sources such as the state and federal government.

REV. IVAN G. SMITH of 10656 Deering, Livonia recently came to Livonia as an assistant pastor at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Smith, who is seeking one of the six-year terms, was pastor of the Grandale Presbyterian Church in Detroit, and served on the administrative staff of a college in Kansas. For three years he was an admissions counselor at another college in Kansas.

LEROY C. BENNETT, of 14387 Northville Rd., Plymouth, is seeking a second term on the board of trustees, a six-year term. Bennett, math-science chairman at Holmes Junior High, Livonia, served as trustee at large of the college board from 1963 to 1967.

He has also been on the board of directors of the college's foundation since 1969.

Bennett holds a BS degree and a MA degree, and attended Lansing Community College, Western Michigan University, George Peabody College and Wayne State University.

He is a Korean veteran and a commander in the US Navy Reserves.

NO REPRESENTATIVES of the Senate were present at the board meeting to object to the action, although Mark McQuestin, a former member, voiced opposition.

Flea Market Will Return

The Blum and Kirsch Flea Market will return to Wonderland Center between 10 a.m. and 9 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14.

The flea market offers a selection of rare antiques and handcrafted items.
