

ROAD DEPARTMENT WILL ENLARGE STATE STOP SIGNS

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen indicated this week that stop signs on Michigan roads will be greatly enlarged as a new safety move.

The indication came in the way of an announcement of results of tests which showed that stop sign violations were cut from 50 to 75 per cent by increasing the size of the signs. The tests were made at the so-called "Jolly Corners" intersections of M-9 approximately 1 1/2 miles south of Lansing where the cross road has a daily traffic count of about 600 vehicles.

The tests showed that violations were about the same for 24-inch signs—about 5 per cent of the motorists during the day and approximately 17 per cent at night. When new 36-inch signs were installed, however, violations dropped 50 per cent during the day and nearly 75 per cent at night. Observers, suspecting that traffic was halted merely by the difference of design, made further observations 30 days later when the novelty of the sign had disappeared. The results showed a 70 per cent reduction in violations in daylight hours and 77 per cent at night.

"These tests are of the utmost importance," the commissioner said, "in view of the fact that state police records show that 25 per cent of all fatal accidents on trunkline highways the last three years were right angle collisions at intersections."

LODGE MOVES

The I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 427 of Clareville, has moved to the Veteran's Memorial Home, located at 1674 Lahser Road in Reelfoot. It was noted this week by Clyde Cammann, the Recording Secretary. Meeting nights have been changed to Thursday, it was also announced.

COMMUNITY DOLLARS

Sent into "Exile"

Home-born dollars are being sent into needless "exile" to work for the enrichment of strangers.

Many of us thoughtlessly deal more than we should with outside concerns whose products and services are no better or cheaper than those offered by local merchants.

Loyalty to our home town is more than a pretty sentiment; it is hardheaded common sense and good business. Let us all do our part by buying at home as much as possible.

SLUM CLEARANCE PROGRAM TO BRING ADDITIONAL LABOR

The $800,000,000 slum-clearance and low-rent rehousing program of the United States Housing Authority will provide nearly 700,000,000 "man hours" of labor in addition to constructing decent homes for approximately 120,000 low-income families, according to a report submitted to Nathan Straus, USHA Administrator, and made public recently.

A total of nearly $700,000,000 or more than three-fourths of all the money to be invested in local low-rent housing projects, for which the USHA lends 90 per cent while the local community puts up the remaining 10 per cent of the development cost, will be spent on building materials, contractor's fees and construction labor.

Of this amount $250,000,000 will be assigned as wages to building trades workers and will provide approximately 270,000,000 "man hours" of direct labor on the project sites.

For every 10 men who hammer nails and lay brick and install bathtubs, at least 15 additional men will be put to work in the mills that produce nails, the kilns where bricks are baked, and the factories where bathtubs are made. This "behind-the-scenes" indirect labor will approximate 430,000,000 "man hours."

The total of 700,000,000 "man hours" of labor, both direct and indirect, which the program thus will provide is the equivalent of nearly 300,000 men working one year apiece in the construction of all the 160,000 low-rent dwellings to be built under the long-range USHA program.

A total of 68,000 persons, representing 29,000 families housed in substandard dwellings, are now living in 46 Federal Projects now under the jurisdiction of the USHA.

Upon its fulfillment, the $800,000,000 rehousing program of the USHA will release approximately 560,000 low-income persons, or approximately 160,000 families, now living in slum areas.

Today, in 37 cities in the United States, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, approximately 68,000 persons who formerly lived in dilapidated slums are now living in attractive, airy and well equipped homes. These 68,000 persons represent 29,000 families who, formerly housed in substandard dwellings, are now paying approximately 1/5 of their income for safe, sanitary and decent quarters.

GERMANY COPIES STATE'S ROADSIDE PICNIC TABLES

Michigan's extensive development of roadside parks and picnic tables to lure tourists is being copied in Germany today.

This is one of the observations of State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wageningen on his visit to Europe this summer as an official American delegate to the International Road Congress at The Hague. An important phase of his visit was an inspection of new limited way highways in Germany known as "Autobahns."

Turn-outs with picnic facilities are developed at periodic intervals along these superhighways, the commissioner said. "This is some evidence at least of the care Germany is taking to increase her tourist business."

"The big difference between the development of roadside facilities in Michigan and Germany," the Commissioner said, "is the use of such facilities by the motoring public. 'Whereas picnic tables along the roadside are seldom unoccupied during the day in Michigan, Germany's are usually unused. This difference, however, is due to the fact that Germany does not have nearly the traffic on her roads that we have in Michigan.'"

Judging by letters and resolutions sent to the State Highway Department and observation of field men, Michigan's roadside picnic tables have reached a new popularity peak this summer.

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 21.

The Golden Text, (Job 38: 5), is "Behold, God is mighty, and despatch not any; he is mighty in strength and wisdom."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Rom. 1: 33): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out. Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 275): "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is Mind, and that Mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience,—that is, all power, all presence, all science. Hence all is in reality the manifestation of Mind."
