Judge Moore's Report On Juvenile Court

girls under seventeen years of age were ably handled by Mrs. Bailey of the Probate Court and the Girls' Protective League, together with her able assistant Mrs. Ann Neck, without the necessity of bringing these children before the Court. Further, many of the Community Fund Agencies rendered splendid services with homes, parents and children in such a manner as to prevent and make it unnecessary for those children to be formally summoned before the Juvenile Court.

Disposition of 55 Cases Of the 55 "delinquent" petitioned cases, disposition was made as follows: 20 boys were committed to the Boys' Vocational School at Lansing, 5 boys were committed to the Ford Reformatory at Farmington, and 4 girls were committed to the Girls' Training School at Adrian.

21 boys were placed on probation as were 13 girls, such probation being to various individuals who were so far as possible peculiarly suited to helping that individual boy or girl overcome his problem and make good. In addition, 58 filing and recommitting. All work guaranteed.

Several cases were referred to the Michigan Child Guidance Center of Ann Arbor for investigation of mental, physical, and social maladjustment, and valuable reports and recommendations were received from that institution.

In all, 301 Court hearings and rehearings were held.

It is our belief that these investigations and probation reports were being carefully made with a definite object of doing the best thing for the child involved and at the same time protecting the community from further trouble so far as possible.

I can not urge any too strongly the necessity of an active interest of the people at large in and concerning the boys and girls of every community. While the home is the first stronghold in protecting and rearing boys and girls, the interest of the good people in that neighborhood, the character of the other school functions, Boy Scout, Girl Scout, Campfire Girl and many other similar organizations, the proper influences cast by the churches and church schools all are of additional, immeasurable value toward making our boys and girls the right type.

The Probate Court and its staff of workers in the Juvenile Division, commends the interest and assistance of everyone in the solution to these difficult problems.

ARTHUR E. MOORE,
Judge of Probate.

LUCILE GEISTLER BECOMES BRIDE OF NEAL HARGRAVE

At a ceremony at the Baptist church Thursday evening, Lucile Geistler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Geistler, Orchard Lake Road was married to Neal Har-grave, Jr. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Hargrave, St. of Detroit.

The wedding was attended by friends and relatives. A reception was held afterwards in the church parlors. The bride was dressed in white lace and carried a bouquet of roses and baby's breath. She was attended by Marian Geistler.
The bridesmaids wore blue marquise with shawl bouquets. The groom was attended by Willard Hober. As a part of the ceremony Mrs. Claude Hardy sang
"O Promise Me." "The Wedding March" from Lohengrin played on the organ by Mr.
Gilbert Miles, wife of the officiating pastor.

Immediately following the ceremonies the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls.

Mrs. May Mahaney is visiting her daughter in Canada.
Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Bade and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. MacGregor and Mr.
Malcolm, Jr., returned recently from a motor trip through Indiana and Kentucky.

Olin Wilkinson and Mrs. Minnie Wilkinson of Birmingham, visited Miss Edythe Wilkinson this week end. Edythe has been ill several days, but is now back at her work at Securities Finance Company.

Barring all visitors was considered at a recent conference of officials who are wrestling with the problem. It is doubtful if that will be done, however, because of protests by travelers and shipping interests. But if they can be worked out, new and more effective measures of limitation will be put into effect before the rush season next summer.

Frankincense Comes From

Tree Regarded as Sacred

Frankincense comes from a small tree which is tapped through short incisions in the bark. The milky juice which then exudes is allowed to dry into gum. This tree was sacred and everything connected with it, the harvesting of the gum, the cultivation of the tree itself, those who handled it—all were governed by religious rites and rules.

The control of this monopoly lay in the city of Shabwa, the ancient capital of the Hadramaut, says answers. Then it was a great walled town with 60 temples, and from it led one of the oldest trade routes in the world; from the frankincense country to the markets of Egypt, Syria and Rome.

The great camel caravans skirted the central desert, then turned north to Mecca, and thence to Alexandria, Antioch and Rome with their precious freight.

There were special store-rooms for the sacred gum in the temple at Jerusalem; vast quantities were used each year in the temples of Egypt; the Arabs paid it as a tribute to Darius, the Persian; and Alexander, the Great sent it as a present to his tutor. So valuable was it that men who handled it were stripped before they left their work and searched in case they might have stolen some!

Part of the crop was taken down to the coast and shipped up the Red sea to Egypt. It was the lure of this lucrative trade and the exorbitant rates charged by the Arab shipping princes that persuaded the Romans to build their own fleet on the Red sea and to fight for the command of the eastern seas.

Frankincense is still produced in the Hadramaut, but there is no longer a world-wide demand for the gum.

Dr. Mary Walker
Dr. Mary Walker distinguished herself by gallant and patriotic services during the Civil war. She was commissioned as first lieutenant to serve on the surgical staff of the army during the war and spent four years on the battlefield. At that time the attitude of women was much more voluminous than at present and it simplified matters a great deal for Doctor Walker to wear men's clothes. Congress gave her the Congressional Medal of Honor and permission to wear her uniform.
