Youth Temperance Group Installs New Officers

The Helen L. Hard chapter of the Youth's Temperance Council, held the hospitality of Miss Helen L. Hard at her home on Wilmarth street, Thursday, September 7, for its regular monthly meeting.

In the absence of the president, the meeting was called to order by Margaret Ann Miles. New officers were installed by Mrs. A. G. Leonard, the chapter's sponsor.

Dwice Greenman, newly installed president, gave a resume of his work at Camp Tyrone, a Y. T. C. camp. One of the honored guests and speakers at the camp, Greenman reported, was Governor Dickinson, who later was made an honorary member of the Michigan Youth's Temperance Council.

TO TALK TURKEY
What to do about marketing Michigan's half a million turkeys is a problem to be presented by leaders of the Michigan Turkey Growers Association in a meeting to be held in the Union building at Michigan State College. One of the factors is the earlier date for Thanksgiving. Another is the problem of processing facts to Michigan dealers and consumers about the higher quality of Michigan produced turkeys. Leaders hope to establish and begin using a trade mark that will effectively denote a native bird. In spite of a large crop, the holiday appetites of families in this state demand more birds than Michigan farmers use. By raising and fatten but producers are trying to retain profitably a place in the market in the face of out of state competition.

DOROTHY STABLER BECOMES BRIDE OF RAY REBER

Miss Dorothy Stabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stabler, was united in marriage Thursday evening to Ray J. Reber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Reber, of Detroit, at a very pretty ceremony performed at the Stabler home on Valley View avenue. Rev. Delmore Stubbs performed the ceremony, before the large fireplace, flanked with low palms. A large bouquet of asters, with white candelabra on either side was the mantle piece. Miss Stabler wore a street gown of light wool, in aqua blue, with black accessories, and wore a corsage of summer flowers and yellow rose buds. Her maid of honor, Miss Iva Murdock of Detroit, wore dusty rose, with corsage of blue and white summer flowers.

Douglas Stabler, brother of the bride, assisted Mr. Reber as best man.

Mrs. Douglas Parker played the wedding march.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stabler chose navy blue, and wore a corsage of yellow and white flowers. Mrs. Reber wore aqua marine, with a corsage of pink lilies.

Immediately following a reception for 65 guests was held at the Stabler residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Reber are spending this week on a motor trip through northern Michigan, and upon their return will reside in Detroit.

Mrs. Reber was honored at four bridal showers, one a linen shower, given by Mrs. Enos Porter and Mrs. Douglas Stabler, of Detroit. Mrs. Delmore Stabler, of Highland Park, entertained at a miscellaneous shower, and Miss Iva Murdock of Detroit, was hostess at a kitchen shower. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Reber entertained relatives of the young couple at a miscellaneous shower at their home in Detroit.

APPLE ADVERTISING LAW PRAISED BY ORGANIZATIONS

The ink was hardly dry on the first announcement of the passage of Michigan's Apple Advertising Law and the naming of the Michigan State Apple Commission, when national wholesaling and retailing organizations, both chain and independent, began to bombard the Apple Commission and the State of Michigan with congratulatory messages on this forward step in merchandising Michigan apples.

Among the first to send their good wishes was the Independent Grocers' Alliance, one of the largest organizations of its kind in the country, which said, "We note with interest the forward step which your newly formed organization is taking. . . We will be very pleased to cooperate with you in every possible way to assist in this work."

The National Association of Food Chains, through its President, Mr. John A. Logan, said, "The problems faced by the apple industry are obvious to all. . . These problems only increase the opportunities for distinguished services which are open to organizations such as yours. . . Hope that you will not hesitate to offer any comments at any time which, in your opinion, will assist in improving the distribution of apples and other crops."

The chains, too were right on the job with good wishes and offers of cooperation. The A. & P., through Atlantic Commission Company, its fruit and produce division, said, "It is evidence of the vision and progressiveness of the agricultural leaders of your state," while National Tea congratulated "Michigan for being so progressive in marketing the production of the orchards of Michigan."

Mr. T. Blair Williams, President of National Voluntary Groups Institute said, "Proper promotion of the State of Michigan products is one of the vital needs of agriculture and we wish to congratulate Michigan on this step which cannot help but have beneficial results."

The wholesalers, too, were quick to see the advantages to Michigan of the new apple law. Thomas F. Cochran, President of the National League of Wholesale Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Distributors, said, "We think you are on the right track with your program. . . following the live-wire practice of the State of Maine, New Jersey and others. Many of our members will capitalize on your program right from the start."

Letters like these, from individuals, from cooperatives, from associations, are coming in every mail congratulating the apple growers of Michigan on the forward step they have taken toward better marketing of their product. The consensus of opinion everywhere in the distributing trades, seems to be that it has worked for Maine, and Idaho with potatoes. It has worked with apples for Florida and California with citrus fruit and the success of all these campaigns has been felt adversely by the farmers of Michigan.
