Yoga is being offered under the instruction of a teacher from the Integral Yoga Institute in Detroit.

Tammie Duthie will return with new ideas on holiday crafts, gifts and decorations. This will be a six weeks course, and will be followed by one on holiday foods, showing simplified methods of making tasty and fancy foods, gay settings and how to achieve the gourmet touch for entertaining. Besides demonstrations, there will be tastings.

FOR THOSE WHO have only an hour in the morning to spare for classes, a new activity called Quikie Class will be held. It will provide an introduction to subjects such

Parents To Hear British Educator

Sheila Quarrell will give a talk on the British integrated day and open class room system at 8 p.m., Friday, Sept. 17, in the Plymouth Children's Nursery, Inc., Warren and Haggerty Roads.

She will show a film produced by the Stockwell College of Education, entitled "Children Are People."

ANYONE WHO IS interested in learning more about the system is invited to attend, although the meeting is chiefly for parents of children in the nursery's Monday-Thursday three-year-old class, taught by Mrs. Doris Balconi. Mrs. Balconi is initiating a new program this year designed around methods of the British system, Montessori and the teachings of Piaget.

The nursery school system set up by Mrs. Balconi is child-centered and will allow the three-year-olds freedom to go from many "learning centers" as their own interests, development and materials in the different areas motivate them.

THE COOPERATIVE nursery begins its first day of classes Sept. 20, with full enrollment in all five class sessions. Waiting lists are being maintained for all classes and anyone desiring applications can contact Mrs. Ronald Nuechterlein, 173 N. Main, Plymouth.

The school now has a membership of 105 families, and has five teachers, Mrs. Carolyn Kleinsmith, Mrs. Lois Stuart, Mrs. Jan Luchetti, Mrs. Linda Gratsch and Mrs. Balconi.
