TELEPHONE CO. TO CO-OPERATE WITH LAW ENFORCERS

In a petition filed with the Public Service Commission, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company asked authority to discontinue general telephone service to any designated subscriber on the request of certain law-enforcement authorities. It likewise asked permission to discontinue service to any subscriber if it should be "used in a manner which substantially impairs the service" of another customer.

Law-enforcement authorities that would be authorized to request the company to discontinue general telephone service, according to the petition, would be the judge of any court of record, the attorney-general, any prosecuting attorney, or the corporation counsel or city attorney of any municipality in cases involving municipal ordinances.

The request for such discontinuance would be in writing to the telephone company and would show that the official making the request "has probable cause to believe that the service furnished at a designated location is being used in furtherance of the commission of a specified criminal offense."

An outgrowth of the Wayne County grand jury investigation, the petition seeks to supplement a tariff already in force which permits the company to discontinue leased-wire service to a particular subscriber upon the request of law-enforcement authorities.

Last February, Judge Homer Ferguson, presiding over the one-man grand jury, requested the company to discontinue service at certain designated places which were said to be operating handbooks. The company complied with the request, although doubting that it had the legal authority to do so. At the time, President Welch said the company would ask the public service commission for authority to legally meet such a situation in the future.

LOSEY CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dixon of Britton Road have returned home, having spent a few days visiting Mr. Dixon's parents in Vincennes, Indiana. Enroute they purchased two registered goats from one of the leading dairy goat breeders in Indiana.

The ball game which was to have been played between Briggs and Wilcox schools was called last week and will be announced later.

Wilcox school has under construction a fine baseball diamond that will soon be in shape and will be available for community games. It has been laid out under able directors and when finished will be a fast field. The game between the boys and girls, the first one of the season was played last Friday and resulted in a 32 to 4 score. Which side made the 4 runs is veiled in mystery. Well that's baseball.

Mr. Smith of Detroit has moved into the house formerly owned by Albert Spicer on Clarita Road. The Spicers have moved to their new home on Loveland in Argyle Park.

There will be a Mother and Daughter Banquet held in the basement of the home of Mrs. Robert Fredericks of 18891 Maplewood, May 16 at 6:30. This is by invitation only, due to lack of accomodations. A fine program is being planned under the capable hands of Miss Laura Ault. About 40 will attend.

BLUE MORNING GLORIES

A morning glory of heavenly blue
Over the garden trellis grew
It nods "good morning" at break o' day
Then kissed by the sun it fades away.

Its life is over 'ere scarce begun.
But into the heart of some weary one
Has crept a message from above
Rest secure in His perfect love.

Lovingly dedicated to Mrs. Yerkes, who is recovering nicely after a serious operation recently.

Harold Wilson has learned it pays to keep to the familiar highways even if Spring is in the air. Being sent to deliver a message by Mr. Yeoman, he was allowed to drive the car to save time and shoe leather. Harold thought to kill two birds with one stone, detoured to an enticing farm house, and the result was a puncture. The long absence caused some anxiety and Mr. Mansfield set out to locate the missing messenger, whom he found wearily plodding along the highway in search of assistance. The moral of the story is never pick up nails on a country road.

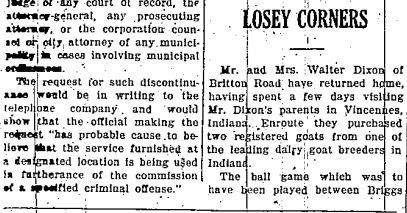
Babies and Dogs are Camera Favorites



Equally appealing to America's amateur photographers, it seems, are babies and dogs — in all sorts of positions and situations. For these subjects appear over and over in the 1940 Kodak Exhibit of more than 200 photographs, now being exhibited in leading cities in the United States.

To many, the pictures reproduced above are high spots of the exhibit. "A Shy Model Miss" is the title for the study by Harvey Chandler of Miami, Fla., and "Thief" is the name of the pup caught unexpectedly by Americo Grasso of Chicago.

The exhibit is open free to the public at the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit from Thursday, February 29 through Monday, March 4, inclusive.

SAFETY LEADERS PREPARE FOR STATE CAMPAIGN

Lines were sharply drawn this week for a global offensive against accidents in Michigan as more than 5,000 programs for the Michigan State-Wide Safety Conference went out to safety leaders throughout the state.

The sessions of the Conference will be held in Lansing, May 22, 23, and 24. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, general chairman, announced that the program would feature sessions on accident prevention in five different divisions; home, school, street and highway, industrial, and public. Headline speaker of the Conference is Dr. Miller McClintock, director of the Yale University Bureau of Street Traffic Research. Dr. McClintock will speak at the banquet on Friday evening, May 24.

"Sessions have been arranged to illustrate safety practices of every thing from fishing and hunting to truck driving. The sessions are open to the public and there is no registration fee in connection with the Conference. Invitations are being sent to police officers, sheriffs, prosecutors, judges, industrial personnel, and safety managers, industrial employes, women's organizations, parent teachers association groups, insurance officials, and school officials.

SOCIAL SECURITY FIELD OFFICE SERVICES ARE FREE

All services of the field offices of the Social Security Board are free. It was explained this week by Richard H. Hendrick, manager of the Pontiac field office of that Federal agency.

His announcement was made to bring about a broader understanding of the type of service which the field office of the Federal agency gives, it was said. Commenting on the availability of service Hendrick declared:

"The service of a Social Security Board field office begins when a person applies for a social security account number, whether an original or duplicate.

"Then if a worker desires to know how much money is credited to his wage record in the social security headquarters in Baltimore, he may get the posted which is used to obtain this information, from any field office of the Board. The only expense to the worker for this service is for a one cent stamp to attach to the post card.

"If the worker finds any error in his account the Board will endeavor to find the cause of the mistake and thus bring about a correction.

"Finally if a worker or his survivors file claim for monthly payments under the amended Social Security Act, the Board will handle all necessary details of filing the claim, with no charge for this or any other services within its scope," Hendrick added.

He said that those having any social security matters to discuss may use the Pontiac field office at any time, either through personal or telephone call or by correspondence.
