

Poetry and Promises

Poets have spoken for and about love down through the ages. Their eloquence has helped young lovers to express emotions they are unable to put into words themselves. Brides and grooms are also finding that poetry can make a beautiful and personal wedding ceremony. On the next several pages are samples of love poems that have been used to individualize marriage vows.

She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleamed upon my sight:
A lovely apparition, sent
To be a moment's ornament;
Her eyes as stars of twilight fair;
Like twilight's, too, her dusky hair;
But all the things else about her drawn
From May-time and the cheerful dawn;
A dancing shape, an image gay,
To haunt, to startle, and waylay.

William Wordsworth
