

Free Lunch Rules Told

FARMINGTON A free and reduced lunch price policy for Farmington students unable to pay the full price has been announced by Byron Oliver, administrative services director of Farmington Schools.

School lunches cost 40 cents for children in grades K-6 and 45 cents for grades 7-12.

Local school officials have adopted a family size and income scale to determine eligibility. The scale of eligibility ranges from a family size of one child and wage of $2,040 to family of 10 children with $8,080 earnings with the median being a family with six children and $5,100 income.

FAMILIES suffering from unusual circumstances and hardships are also urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches for their children by filling out an application form sent home with their children from school.

Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school and may be submitted any time during the school year.

The form itself is simple to complete, requesting information needed to determine economic need based on income and the number of persons in the family, plus explanation of any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for lunches. All information on applications will be confidential and will be used only for determining eligibility.

UNDER the policy provisions, Oliver will review applications and determine eligibility.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make either an oral or written request for a hearing to appeal the decision.

William Prisk, business manager for the Farmington School District, 35500 Shawansee, has been designated as the hearing official.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch.

A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school and in the School Board office of Byron Oliver. Any interested citizen is welcome to take a look at it any week day.

102 YEARS -- Mrs. Metta Ambler, a resident of Farmington Nursing Home, recently celebrated her 102nd birthday and among the cards received were greetings from President Nixon, U.S. Rep. William Broomfield and Gov. William Milliken. Mrs. Ambler once lived on a farm at Orchard Lake and 10 Mile and, as a young girl, drove a team of oxen. She attributes her long life to praying, attending all the affairs and "keeping my nose out of other people's business." (Evert photo)

Mrs. Helen Abrahamson, formerly of 12 Mile Rd. in Farmington, has sold her home and property and moved to Missoula to be near her son.

Helen lived on 12 Mile for 35 years or longer. Her husband built their home on their property. Helen's son raises beautiful horses on his ranch. She will be missed at our local Drop In Center because Helen was our "sunshine lady" since the club was started and was also a member of the Order of Eastern Star here.

Miss Beverly Kaufman of Nine Mile has returned from a five-week vacation in Alaska. Accompanying her were Mrs. Beulah Zingelman of Farmington and Beverly's nieces, Debbie Starks of Livonia and Melanie Kaufman of Ohio.

They drove to Seattle and boarded the Alaska state ferry for the inland passage to Skagway, a 3 1/2 day trip. From there, they boarded the Narrow Gauge Railroad to White Horse, taking their car on the train, and then drove to Mt. McKinley National Park where they camped for five days before going to Fairbanks. They drove the Alaskan Highway to the hospital. What impressed them most were the beautiful wild flowers and all the greenery. They also saw many wild animals.

Jaycee Membership Drive Underway

FARMINGTON An invitation to get involved in the Farmington community is being issued by the Farmington Area Jaycees.

The Jaycees, an organization of young men numbering 100, is holding its annual membership drive and is urging men 21-35 years old to get involved in Farmington by joining the Jaycees.

A MEMBERSHIP night will be held Oct. 4 beginning at 8 p.m. in the Farmington Elks Temple at 26666 Orchard Lake Rd., just south of 10 Mile.

Guest speaker will be Pat Sheridan, president of the Michigan Jaycees organization who will tell how Jaycees provide training for leadership through community involvement.

Robert Beauchamp, membership chairman, invites interested young men to attend the membership night to find out what being a Jaycee is all about before deciding whether to invest $15 for the club's nominal annual dues.

FARMINGTON JAYCEES are made up of executives, professional men, merchants, salesmen, craftsmen, mechanics and laborers, says President Earl Fetta.

"They are the boosters of the community of Farmington and the backbone of the community," Fetta continues.

"It is and will continue to be an organization of young men dedicated to civic service and to the welfare of the community and its citizens through civic service and constructive projects."

The young man who is concerned about his community and realizes that problems which most often concern the nation originate in local communities, says Fetta, has met an important qualification for membership in the JCs.

"We believe that service to humanity is the best work of life. Help us and help yourself by joining the Farmington Jaycees now," adds Fetta.
