GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Cunning little cork accessories are being made by the girls of Troop 8, under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Vetter.

Last week the girls concentrated upon lapel pins, and this week they are creating novel necklaces out of cork. The troop also has made initials out of pipe cleaners, and sold them for the benefit of its Juliette Low fund.

Elizabeth Johnson and Joan Aschenbrenner were chosen to represent Troop No. 5 at the meeting of the Woman's Club on Wednesday, at which the club entertained members of the Girl Scout Council, troop leaders, and representatives from each troop.

A short hike is on the program for Brownie Troops 2 and 4 this week, weather permitting. The girls have been working at home on their afghan squares, in order to speed the completion of the afghan. The offer made by Carol Faulkner and Jane Hamlin, two girls not yet of Brownie age, to make afghan squares, was gratefully accepted by the troop. Yelma Goers and June Hunt were chosen to represent Troop 4 at the Woman's Club meeting.

Mrs. H. R. Locker, Training Chairman of the Local Girl Scout Council, has accepted the leadership of Troop 1.

A five-room doll house is being constructed and furnished by the girls of Troop 7, under the supervision of Mrs. Mary Goodfellow, leader, and Mrs. John Hunt, assistant leader. The girls worked on the doll house last week, and now are making overfurnished furniture for the living room. The house presents a tastefully furnished living room, dining room, kitchenette, bedroom, nursery, and bath. The girls plan to donate the doll house to some hospital. Marian Gustafson and Marjorie Hunt were chosen to represent the troop at the Woman's Club meeting.

TRAINING FOR TODAY'S NEEDS
In times of crisis—war, emergencies, floods, etc.—girls' and women's jobs are their traditional jobs sharpened to meet the emergency. These jobs fall mainly in the areas of the home, health, recreation, morale, conservation, and community service.

In each area there are certain specific skills girls can use. To use them most effectively, they need the leadership of trained women. Such leadership is one of the biggest contributions a woman can make to her country. Everyone's contribution counts, no matter where she lives, for everywhere there are girls and work for them to do. —Spring Bulletin, Girl Scouts, Inc.

"HIGH SIERRA" HEADS PROGRAM AT THE CIVIC

"High Sierra" a story of a noted bank robber and a thrilling man-hunt in the high mountain passes of California, starring Humphrey Bogart and Ida Lupino, is the feature attraction Friday and Saturday at the Civic Theatre. The other half of the double bill program is "Mr. District Attorney," a story based on the famous radio program of the same name. In the cast are Dennis O'Keefe, as a young attorney, Florence Rice as a reporter, and Peter Lorre as an absconding politician.

Adventure in the diamond fields of central Africa is the theme of "South of Suez," a powerful dramatic story which co-stars George Brent and Geraldine Fitzgerald. A new picture by the oft-renowned Jane Withers completes the two-feature program. Also in the cast is the veteran Jane Darwell. This program will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The singing star, Gene Autry, makes a return visit to the Civic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday in his latest movie, "Back in the Saddle." With him is his sidekick, Smiley Burnette, and another regular of the Autry pictures, Mary Lee. John Barrymore and Virginia Bruce are the stars of "Invisible Woman," the companion picture. These two movies may be seen at reduced rates through the merchants' family night arrangement. There will be a late movie, reel shown Wednesday evening.

"Fantasia" Passes 100th Performance in Detroit.

Walt Disney's "Fantasia" recently celebrated its 100th performance at the Wilson Theatre and is now in its 101st performance at the Detroit record for a picture's continuous run in one theatre.

"Fantasia" is now in its ninth week and needs only two more to pass the mark set by the current record-holder "Gone With the Wind," which, incidentally, was also shown at the Wilson.

Nearly 50,000 persons have seen this revolutionary picture since it opened in Detroit. It will not be shown in any other theatre in or near this city because of its special sound equipment. Mail orders are filled promptly for any performance, which are given, daily at 2:30 and 8:30 p. m.

"Black light" is the name of the new mercury vapor for automobile lights that can throw its ultraviolet beam for 500 feet, but is invisible from the air.
