

Civic Theatre Names Program For Week

Coming to the Civic Theatre Friday and Saturday this week is "Footsteps in the Dark" with Errol Flynn and Brenda Marshall. "Footsteps in the Dark" is the name of a highly successful book written by Flynn, under an alias, and is a satire on the members of his family. In attempting to solve a murder, later becoming involved himself, his true identity is revealed, and a series of rather hair-raising adventures follows. "Free and Easy" is the companion picture and is the story of impoverished aristocrats and their determination to marry into money.

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, "Kit Carson" starring Lynn Bari and Jon Hall. The second feature is "A Girl, a Guy and a Guy" with George Murphy and Lucille Ball. It is the usual triangle, this time concerning a sailor, his girl and the man she meets when she occupies his box at the opera.

Wednesday and Thursday are Merchants' Family Nights when admission is only 10c with a merchants' coupon. The double feature includes "Hollywood Cavalcade" and "Father's Son."

There is but one law for all, namely, that law which governs all, the law of our Creator, the law of humanity, justice, equity—the law of nature and of nations.

Six field offices, bringing the total to 10, were opened to familiarize the public and industry with priority's role in national defense.

Everybody Has Ability And Equipment to Sing

What fun to know how to sing—whether for just your own pleasure or to entertain friends.

And you can sing—everyone can sing! You may think you have a weak voice of no range. You may go into a shell quiver singing such a simple air as "Three Blind Mice."

But still you have all the equipment any singer uses; you simply haven't learned what to do with it.

The reason your voice breaks is that your breathing machine isn't working well. Learn to inhale deeply, expanding your ribs and stiffening your spine. Exhale slowly until you feel completely satisfied.

To test the evenness of your breathing, stand before a candle. If the flame keeps steadily horizontal when you exhale you are breathing evenly.

As for the range of your voice, you can enlarge it with such simple exercises as this one:

Speak these syllables in a low, soft voice: BAH, RAY, BEE, BO, BOO. Hold the sound OO, gradually changing from a speaking quality into a soft singing tone.

Repeat in a slightly higher speaking tone, changing the OO to a singing tone as before. And continue—raising the voice a little each time as long as you can without strain. Then lower the voice step by step.

Plastic Gains in Favor

Plastic materials are being used to a greater extent than ever before by the motor industry in its 1941 models.

A survey of the new cars reveals the fact that a glass-like transparent plastic is now being used for instrument panel lenses in certain makes and models.

Other types of plastics are being employed to embellish the handsomely finished one-piece steel window moldings of the new turret-top bodies by Fisher and to decorate the knobs of the window regulator handles and cranks controlling the operation of the no-draft ventilation system, as well as for dome and courtesy light lenses.

Other uses to which plastics are being put by automobile manufacturers include steering wheels, fog lamp shells, stop lights, direction signals and radiator ornaments.

Stockings As Rug Material

Charming for a homey living room nook or far a bedroom—a colorful octagon rug you can make from old silk stockings at the cost of a little dye!

It's easy, too. You cut two-inch bias strips from the stockings, sew them end to end and crochet them together with single crochet. In no time you have finished a rug 30 inches in diameter.

You can use the stockings in their original colors or you can remove the dye with color remover and re-dye in blending colors—violet, purple, bright blue and ivory, or any combination you prefer.

Sew all your violet strips together and crochet a center 7½ inches in diameter, starting with a chain of three joined in a ring. Follow with three rows of ivory, five rows of bright blue and 12 rows of purple. Add eight stitches in each row.

Ocean Water Unhealthy

In answer to an inquiry as to why human beings cannot exist on salt water used to quench their thirst, Hygeia, The Health Magazine, explains: "The body fluids contain about 1 per cent salt. Sea water contains about three times as much salt of various kinds. When a fluid with a high salt content is taken into the mouth, it extracts water from the tissues and the blood stream. The dryness in the linings of the mouth and throat and the sensation of thirst are therefore increased."
