is just the thing

That gloomy corner every one avoids can be transformed into one of the cheeriest spots in the room. Hang a pin-to-wall lamp with 100-watt bulb over the chair, and see what a difference it makes! (We do not sell these lamps. See them at your dealer's.) The Detroit Edison Company.

Gun Handling, Right and Wrong

Simple little mistakes like those illustrated on the right above cause most hunting accidents. Correct habits of gun handling, shown on the left, are being demonstrated at sportsmen's shows and other meetings throughout the state in a conservation department campaign to keep hunters properly respectful of their firearms. Another elementary rule is one that guns should never be loaded in camp, home or car, but should be handled as carefully as if they were. In the field guns should never be carried with the safety off, nor ever allowed to point at anything the hunter does not intend to shoot. Fence climbing should be attempted only after the guns have been handed to a partner, or pushed through and laid on the ground by the hunter who is alone. Last season 25 of Michigan's 715,252 licensed deer and small game hunters died from accidents in the field.
