American Legion

Notes

Members of the Groves-Walker Post thank all who helped to make their feather party a success November 18th, at the town hall.

Seen in about the hall were a number of Legionnaires from the Redford Post, and from Detroit, many friends of the Legion attended. The assistance rendered by Comrade Freck and Comrade Russell of Redford Post is appreciated.

In the absence of Carson Baldwin (who has always kindly furnished the amplifier) no one understood how to operate the system.

As a consequence there were a few very hoarse throats the next day. You could hear Alfred DeCharme relaying the numbers—so all could hear—and a good job he did it too. Mrs. Niles, Past President of the Auxiliary took first honors by winning the door prize, a 21 lb. turkey.

The date has not been set yet for the banquet for the Farmington football team, sponsored by the Groves-Walker Post.

17th District News

See front page of this issue for radio program sponsored by the various posts of the 17th District. Due to Mr. Herman Luthr, Commander of the Department of Michigan being called upon to represent the American Legion at a funeral, Addison Algire, Adjutant of the Department, spoke over WEXL in his behalf on "The American Legion and National Defense."

The next district meeting will be at Lake Orion on December 5th. This is a joint meeting and there will be a delicious dinner. All Legionnaires and Auxiliary members are requested to be in attendance.

Members of the American Legion, learning of the death of Comrade Mason Giberson's brother, wish to extend their heart-felt sympathy.

The mid-winter Conference on December 5-7 to be held in Pontiac holds out an unusual meaning for some of the members in District 17, for the 40 and 8 are having another wreck—with a number of soldiers being subject to the whims and whims of Voltaire 811.

Saturday, November 23, Lake Orion will be host on the radio program over WEXL from 1:30 to 1:45 p. m. December 6th will be given over to the Mid-Winter Conference. Speakers are to be announced later.

Mrs. Diamond Hostess To O.E.S. Officers

On Tuesday evening, November 25, Mrs. Hazel Diamond entertained her O.E.S. officers at her home on Hanes avenue. The evening was spent playing bridge and cards, while prizes were awarded to Ella Darling, Ada Bond, Evelyn Hinchman and Harold Hurkett.

A delicious luncheon was served to the guests, after which Mrs. Diamond, with a few gracious words, thanked her officers for their help and cooperation during the past year. She presented each of them with a beautiful velvet cushion with the O.E.S. emblem embroidered on it. The men received leather books with the Masonic emblem on the cover.

There were 24 guests present, and all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Harry Richman has returned home after spending three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Samuel McClemons in Detroit.

and earnest hope of every Michigan Legionnaire that Michigan-made instruments of war will put the little paper-hanger out of business.

Detroit Legionnaires have tentative plans for the protection of their great industrial city. Special attention is being given this area. The Department is cooperating with civic and military authorities. Their objective is to see that great factories are kept working at top speed.

Michigan is and will continue to do its part—Ever remembering the Department slogan "All-Out for National Defense."
