SOUTHFIELD GRADUATES 600 AIR RAID WARDENS

Over 600 people of Southfield Township will receive Air Raid Warden Certificates at 8 o'clock Thursday night, April 16, at Baldwin High School, Birmingham, when graduation exercises will be held for those civilian defense registrants who have completed the 10 hour course of study prescribed by the Southfield Township Civilian Defense Council, and given by Mrs. Ewald E. Schadt, 15261 Devonshire, air raid warden instructor.

Capt. Donald S. Leonard, Commander of Michigan Defense Corps will be the main speaker of the evening. Special motion pictures on Civilian Defense will be shown. Members of the Southfield Civilian Defense Council will be present. Special music has been arranged for the occasion. Leo B. Durham, chairman of the Defense Council, will have charge of the meeting.

The Defense Council has extended its sincere appreciation to Mrs. Schadt for the splendid work she has done in offering this air raid warden course eight hours per week for the past five weeks. Besides this work, Mrs. Schadt has offered a special 10 hour course for key people in the defense program and also plans to give special make-up classes for those people who have missed part of the course, according to Glenn W. Levey, Director of Public Relations.
