F. H. S. LOSES BASEBALL GAME TO HOLLY

Farmington High School's defending championship baseball team got off on the wrong foot last Friday when they were turned back by Holly in an overtime contest. With Montgomery pitching for Holly, Farmington was kept pretty well in trim in all but the early inning. The first man up for the visitors, Pauline, reached first on an error. While Russell was fanning, he stole second and third. Sullivan was thrown out, short to first, and Pauline came home with the first run of the game. Lahr kept things going with a triple and came home on Ryan's single. This ended the scoring for Farmington for the day.

In the fourth inning it looked as if Farmington would increase their lead. With the bases loaded and nobody out, Russell drove a liner at Beckly on second, who promptly threw to third, doubling Miller. Sullivan ended the inning by going down swinging.

In the sixth inning Holly kotted the count on two doubles, a single and a fielder's choice. At the end of the seventh, Martindale, who had been pitching for Farmington, was taken out according to high school rules. MacCulloch came in at this point. With one man out and a man on third for Holly in the eighth, center fielder Lahr caught a fly and threw the runner out, who was trying to score to end the inning. In the ninth, with one man out, Stack of Holly, came home from third on a short pass ball to win the ball game 3 to 2.

Martindale, Miller, Beck, Ryan, Lahr, Russell, Pauline, and Sullivan all had one hit apiece, Lahr capturing batting honors for the day because his hit was a three bagger.

F.H.S. Nine Wins First Game Monday

F.H.S.'s defending league champions got off to a flying start Monday afternoon by defeating Redford Union by the score of 16 to 9. Starting pitcher Martindale pitched the first three innings, facing a mere nine men, while the home town lads were banging away for 6 hits and 10 runs. At MacCulloch came in at this point and held the foe in check until the seventh. R. U. scored one run or two, but it was through a flaw on the part of Farmington's aggregation was pounding the left-handed slants of Prior for four more runs.

In the seventh Farmington defense went sky high. When the Longhorn nine were lucky enough to stop the balls, they couldn't seem to throw it straight. Before the side was retired, R. U. had garnered eight more runs. The final score stood at 16 to 9.

Sullivan led Farmington's attack with three hits, followed by Ryan and Holmes with two each.

Irene Brykalski Wins Second in Contest

The oratorical and declamatory contestants, who have been walking around school in a daze for the last week, finally were relieved when they attended the speech meet held in Howell on Wednesday, April 15.

In the dramatic reading division Farmington was represented by Irene Brykalski, senior, and Ilena Morris, junior. In the oratorical division by John Orofino, Esq. and Dorothy Coers, seniors; and in declamatory work by Audrey Lathrup, sophomore, and Lois Goers, freshman. In the dramatic readings Irene Brykalski was second and Frank Eaton of Milford was first.

The other Farmington representatives did their best, and even though they didn't receive honorable mentions, Miss Steele, public speaking instructor, says that they gained valuable experience.

'TIS SAID

"Tis said a couple of frosh ('twould be fair to say) who tried skipping study hall Monday by jumping out the window of the library work room. They landed outside just as Mr. Dunclel came out the door. What happened? You guess!

Ten sheets of music were lost at the Freshman Frolic. Anyone knowing their whereabouts has Mr. Orofino's name.

There'll be mermaids floating around the gym for Froon floats. What no merman? As one frosh remarked, "There'll be enough men, what d'ya want more?"

Burke Martin is drawing caricatures of all the members in his sophomore English class. They may not be flattering, but they're good.

If any gals are yearning for eyes at some of those handsome "nates" in the Glee Club opera last Friday. Dressed up in their fathers' suits and with their hair brushed up, the girls made quite dashing fellas.

New Books Arrive For Guidance Groups

To assist freshman and sophomore guidance groups several new books on social adjustments have arrived for them. They include "Golden Keys" by Evelyn and John Almack, "Their Word of Honor" by Grace Richmond, "Exploring Life" by John and Evelyn

SNAP JUDGMENTS Teachers and Subjects

Have you ever tried to understand your teachers? It may sound silly, and you're probably saying, "Who wants to understand them?" but take an inventory of your opinions of them. Don't you usually find the teachers you dislike teach subjects you dislike and vice-versa?

How did you first form your opinion? Was it (or she) crabby the first few days? Did you feel you were not marked fairly? Did it seem as though you were picked on?

People are too likely to rely on snap judgments. We don't care for a teacher, or subject for that matter, at our first introduction and from then on we are immune to any good points either. Nothing favorably penalizes, and we are continually at "words" points all year long.

Most people regard that the four years of our high school career are the four best years of our lives. It is that transitional period between childhood and maturity that we begin to understand the why and wherefores of our humanity, and the well that surrounds the mysterious habit called living slowly.

During this time many difficulties arise and we are sorely beset by problems that we do not feel free to discuss with our parents. Then there are the other persons who know us almost as well as our teachers.

After coming in contact with students so often during their high school training, either as pupils or because of participation in outside activities, teachers become well acquainted with our habits and idiosyncrasies. Therefore, it is possible for them to give us good advice regarding ourselves and our future.

Unfortunately, wholesome friendships and good advice are lost to both teachers and students through some petty misunderstanding.

Next time you disagree with a teacher or dislike him, try to analyze your reasons and, if you can't figure out a good one, go and talk to him and see if the two of you can't straighten things out. Remember it takes two to make a bargain.

Prof. A. A. Applegate Interviews Students

Seniors interested in further education had an opportunity to ask questions and receive first-hand information regarding general college requirements and courses of study, when Professor Applegate, representative of Michigan State College and head of their journalism department, visited school Monday, April 20. He answered questions, explained State's curricula and those of other colleges, and discussed the advisability of working one's way through school.

Women Organize Adult Nutrition Class

In order to economize on food for the duration and at the same time serve nutritious meals, 55 women have enrolled in the adult homemaking class started by Mrs. Howard Warner and Mrs. Edgar Pierce and taught by Mrs. Robert Chapman. The course consists of ten lessons, in which they will learn about calories, minerals, proteins and vitamins. Members of the class will receive Red Cross credit for attending these meetings.

New Secretary Hired For Office

Because Miss Eleanor Furman, former secretary to Mr. Dunclel, has taken over Mr. Forner's class, a new secretary, Miss Phyllis Wagner, of Detroit, took her place last week.

Miss Wagner was graduated from Albion College with an A.B. degree in literature. She taught French and literature in Clarenceville schools before coming to Farmington.

King and Queen To Be Crowned at Prom

At the Senior Prom, which will be held at the P.H.S. gymnasium on April 24, from 9 until 1 o'clock, a coronation will take place. William Campbell will be crowned King Neptune and Annabelle Herbert his queen. This selection was made by popular vote.

Following the coronation, the King and queen will bestow knighthood and gifts upon their favorite subjects. The coronation will take place in the Davey Jones' locker, which makes up the prom decorations.

VICHY, FRANCE—in a move seen in some quarters as a checkmate to any attempt Pierre Laval might make to use the armed forces of France on the side of the Nazis, Marshal Petain (left), Chief of State, last Friday made Admiral Jean Dalauc (right) head of all French naval, land and air forces. Although the Admiral is violently anti-British, it is felt here that he would never consent to such outright armed collaboration with the traditional foe of his country.

ELECTRICITY and War

WAR brings rapid changes, but here are the facts about your electric service as it exists today:

LINE EXTENSIONS: Because of the critical shortage of copper, aluminum, and other metals, restrictions have been placed on line extensions to serve new customers. Unless our poles and lines run within 250 feet of your building, we are unable to extend these lines without approval of the War Production Board at Washington, D.C. Where buildings are nearly completed, and an extension of our lines is necessary to serve them, we will assist in preparing the forms required for special approval, and forward your application to the proper authorities in Washington.

ELECTRIC APPLIANCES: Electric appliances, like automobiles and other things made of metal, are being curtailed; and necessities like ships and defense housing will have first claim. We expect that electric ranges and water heaters will be available to a limited extent for replacement of worn-out appliances and for defense houses having priority.

USE OF ELECTRICITY: Last fall curtailment in the use of electricity became necessary in some parts of the country, mostly where unusually low rainfall affected water power plants. We have had ample generating capacity and still do for anything which can be foreseen. If a shortage should appear, requiring necessary curtailment, we will let you know about it.
