MISS HEICHMAN MARRIED TO GEORGE WOHLART

In a ceremony held at eight o'clock Saturday evening, June 27, in the Redford Presbyterian Church, Marjorie Heichman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Heichman, became the bride of George Wohlart, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wohlart of Detroit.

The couple exchanged their vows before the Church altar which was flanked with palms, white lilies and lighted candles. The Rev. McWilliams, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Westfield, the soloist, sang "Because" and "Heaven Sent You To Me," accompanied by the regular organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and lace inset, styled with a long torso, short V neckline and long sleeves. Her veil was held in place with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white stephanotis, swansons, carnations and baby breath in the shape of a fan.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Leo Castle of Detroit was gowned in baby blue chiffon. Her bouquet was of pink carnations, sweet peas and baby breath. Bridesmaids were Gloria Heichman, sister of the bride and Dorothy Wohlart, sister of the groom. Their gowns were pink chiffon and they carried bouquets of blue diphysium and baby breath. All the bouquets were arranged in the shape of a fan, similar to the bride's bouquet.

Harold Wohlart was his brother's best man. The ushers were Albert Wohlart, brother of the groom and Don Heichman, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Heichman selected a gown of yellow silk jersey and Mrs. Wohlart wore blue lace.

All the men in the wedding party wore tuxedos with white carnations for boutonnières.

A reception for the bridal party and about 200 guests was held in the Rosedale Garden Club House immediately following the ceremony. Betty and Her Pals furnished the music.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $3,400 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income every pay day, and help your country go over its War Bond Quota.
