WARTIME HOUSEHOLD

LIGHTING As much as one-fourth of the light you pay for may be lost through dust collecting on your lamp bulbs and fixtures. Dust and dirt cut down the useful light in your rooms, and waste electricity. Keep lamps and fixtures clean. Wipe bulbs and reflector bowls frequently. Dust shades inside and out. Use the right size bulbs in your lamps and fixtures, and select shades with a white lining.

YOUR REFRIGERATOR Don't overcrowd your refrigerator. Unless the motor is hermetically sealed, have it oiled and inspected regularly, be sure there is adequate air circulation all around the refrigerator. Defrost regularly. (Never use a knife or a sharp tool for defrosting.) Clean inside of refrigerator with warm water and mild soap.

YOUR VACUUM CLEANER Empty the dust bag frequently. Once a month, turn bag inside out and brush thoroughly. Do not wash the bag. Keep brushes free from hair and threads. (Repair or replace brushes if tufts become worn.) Before cleaning rugs, pick up by hand all hairpins, tacks, and metal objects.

YOUR RADIO Keep radio away from hot air outlets or steam radiators, and from open windows where rain might damage it. Set it an inch or two away from wall to allow circulation. Use vacuum cleaner attachment to remove dust from chassis and tubes. Give your radio a periodic check-up by a qualified service man.

YOUR ELECTRIC COOKER Never dip the outer shell of the cooker in water when cleaning. When cleaning the broiler unit, be sure to remove heating element first. (Do not dip element in water.) Do not jab the element with a knife or fork. The fragile wire is easily bent or broken. See that the removable cooking well is in place for all cooking.

YOUR ELECTRIC WASHER Drain washer and rinse tub thoroughly after each washing. Remove agitator or suction cups and rinse. Wipe dry with a soft cloth. Don't force thick bulky objects through your wringer—or hard objects like belt buckles, etc. Release pressure on rolls when not in use, and dry wringer thoroughly. Don't overload your washer.
