Loose Lettuce Held Better

The loose-leaved varieties of lettuce contain more vitamins because sunlight can reach more of the leaves.

Why can't I HEAT MY HOUSE electrically?

People ask us — "Isn't it possible to heat my whole house with electricity? Why not small heaters in every room, or an electric furnace in the basement?"

In a nutshell, the answer is this: Electric heat is practical in a SMALL SPACE (such as a bathroom) for a SHORT TIME (one or two hours' use per day). But at present it is not economical for heating for long periods or for large rooms. And it is NOT an economical means of providing additional heat to raise the temperature from 65 to 70 degrees throughout your entire house. There are several reasons why this is so.

First, electric heat is highly refined heat made from coal, and a great deal of heat is lost in the process. If you had 5 tons of coal to turn into electric heat, the heat of 4 tons of coal would be lost in the change-over, and the heat equivalent of only ONE TON would be delivered to your home. The most efficient electric power plants today can extract in the form of refined electric heat about 20 per cent of the heat originally in the coal. But if you burn the coal in your furnace, you can extract 50 to 60 per cent of its crude heat in useful warmth.

Second, electricity must be made the instant it is being used and on cold days each home would require about 80 times as much as it uses normally. The extra power plant equipment to produce enough electricity to heat houses on a cold day would be partly idle on a warmer day; and it would be completely idle all summer. But the expense would continue the year round, and to cover this all-year expense, the cost of electricity would be high.

All the above pertains to house heating. Electricity is, of course, highly economical for steadier uses like water heating, cooking or other uses of refined heat requiring closer control.

CLARENCEVILLE

The Jay Williams of Hancock Avenue entertained friends from Jackson, Saturday evening.

The Mothers' Club Bazaar held at the High School on Friday evening was very successful, as far as money realized and attendance were concerned. The Four H Clubs wish to thank all those who contributed to the success of the affair. During the course of the evening those attending were able to play keno, wander around among the different booths, have fortunes told, take a try at the fish pond, and enjoy lunch. Those who were not present really missed something. A crocheted bedspread, blanket and chenille spread were raffled. The Edgewood Mothers Club is awarding the handmade wool comforter they finished at the bazaar on December 4. At that time a card party will be held at the Edgewood School.

The lady air raid wardens of Oxford, Cambridge and Waldron held their weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. Jones on Cambridge Avenue, Thursday afternoon.

Last Wednesday evening about 75 graduated from Verne Woodcox's air warden school, at which time he was presented with a Defense Bond as a token of their appreciation. On Friday evening of this week the same group are holding a social evening at the High School. Friends are invited, as well as those who took the course of instruction.

On Friday evening the air wardens of the Livonia district held a meeting at Central School and plans were made to cover the territory with a canvass for swap-a-ride information and air raid literature.

Mrs. Sam Pink and Larry met Ethel Pink of Ypsilanti Normal College in Detroit on Saturday for a shopping trip. Later they took her back to school.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolitho of Waldron Avenue spent Saturday evening in Detroit.

A number from here attended the USO party given by the Daughters of Isabella on Saturday evening at Farmington.

The Girl Scout leaders are endeavoring to have each Brownie and Scout buy a 25 cent defense stamp to be forwarded to New York headquarters to be included in the National drive for use of relief of Scouts and children all over the world, after peace is made.

Mrs. Kenneth Burt attended a meeting of her knitting club in Detroit on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. Sonnenburg of Cambridge Avenue entertained a number of friends and relatives at a surprise luncheon party in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Bill Sonnenburg of Oxford Avenue, Monday noon.

A jolly time was had by all who attended the Good Time Dancing Club party given Thursday night at the Maccabees Hall.

The Misses Edith, Ruth and Janet Waack, in company with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Waack, spent Sunday in Plymouth with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waack in celebration of Earl's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Barnes had Sunday dinner with the H. L. Barnes of Ontago.

The Lawrasons on St. Francis entertained a number of friends and relatives at Sunday night supper.

The Child Health Conference was held on Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. in the Maccabee Hall. Those in attendance were Dr. Halsted, Nurse Bittrich, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Rutila.

Bill Pink and a school friend from Alma College visited with his parents, the Sam Pinks, over the week-end.

The Nutrition Class which has been meeting at Botsford Tavern under the direction of Mrs. Robert Chapman of Farmington, has taken their test. The final meeting will be held on Thursday evening.

Nineteen ladies were present at the November 4 meeting of the Edgewood Mothers Club held at the home of Mrs. Burt on Oxford Avenue. The infant carrier was presented to Miss Bittrich, County Nurse, by Mrs. Bolitho. Mrs. Robertson presented her plan for a service flag to be flown from the mast at the Edgewood School. The Club endorsed the plan, though the funds must still be collected. Plans were made for the baked goods booth at the Bazaar Friday night. The wool comforter made to be raffled was on display and Mrs. Burt was given credit for her time and effort in making it. Luncheon preceded the meeting which adjourned at 3:30 o'clock.

Private James Lee has returned to the West Coast following a furlough. His father, Roilie Lee, is home from the hospital, somewhat improved.

LOCALS

THEY'RE DOING THEIR PART
We can do ours by Giving them the Weapons they need for VICTORY!

On farms, in factories, in homes and places of business all over the country, one material we need to win this war is lying rusting and dormant: Eight to ten million tons of it! Enough to offset our present loss of production. Enough to boost our war output of steel up to a Victory level!

It's squarely up to every citizen of the United States. It's our job to round up this useless junk and send it to the front to help our boys.

So, take a second look at that old shovel — will you hang on to it for a "spare" when it might give a Marine the four hand grenades he needs? That old electric iron will never run again — are you going to hoard it in your attic when it might supply an American soldier with a burst of machine gun bullets to stop a Jap?

Those old golf clubs . . . that rusty plow . . . those obsolete castings — you won't save them for tomorrow when you know they could provide tough steel helmets to save young American lives . . . NOW!

★ Scrap has work to do — will you give it a chance?

Remember HALF OF EVERY TANK GUN and SHIP IS MADE FROM Scrap

One old flat iron provides enough scrap to make the steel for two helmets or 20 hand grenades.
