hahnke, Jr., returned from deer hunting on Sunday.

GIRL SCOUT COLUMN

An important project has been launched this week by Troop 7.
The girls will pick up jigsaw puzzles and books that are no longer being used, and turn them in to the U.S.O. Anyone having puzzles and books that they will contribute to this worthy cause is asked to telephone Marjorie Hunt at 382, or Ann Faulkner at 31.

The troop is planning a Christmas play, "Christmas Miniature," with the following cast: Mary Boyd, Faulkner; Joann, Velma Goers; Town Clerk, Marjorie Hunt; Franz Gruber, Marian Motes; His Wife, June Hunt; Innkeeper, Ruth Hamlin; Martin Luther, Thelma Collins; Candbearer, Joyce Boyd; Two Angels, Joann Kemp and Pat Rigney; Three Wise Men, Pat Booth, Kay Beals and Dorothy Hendrix.

At last week's meeting, the girls practiced the candlelight ceremony for the B-Y-up which is scheduled for the near future. The defense stamps which the girls are contributing to the nationwide Girl Scout Victory Fund have been collected and total $2.25.

Ellen Edridge and Janet Mitchel have been visiting the meetings of Troop 4. All the girls in the troop are sorry to lose Boyd, Faulkner, who is moving away.

With the Girl Scout Victory Fund campaign drawing to a close, the defense stamps contributed by the Farmington troops and council members should be turned in to Mrs. Edward Faulkner, chairman of the Victory Fund campaign, as soon as possible, so that she may complete her records and forward the stamps to the Girl Scout national headquarters. Final figures on the campaign will be announced as soon as they are available.

10% OF THE MEN
AT FORT CUSTER
GIVEN FURLOUGHS

To spend Christmas, or New Year's at home is the desire of every man at Fort Custer, and officers planning holiday furloughs and passes have been working weeks to grant time off to as many men as possible and at the same time to get them home before the civilian holidays start travelling.

Back in October the War Department ordered each post commander to pick a Furlough Coordinator to work with the transportation companies to get the men carried with minimum expense once to civilians going home for holidays. At the same time a limit of 10 per cent was placed on the number of men away from camp at one time on furlough and 10 per cent more could be absent for passes for Christmas Day.

Custer officers are working on a plan where 10 per cent of the men leave after 7:00 a.m. on December 16 and return before midnight on December 29, and a second group will be furloughed for 14 days beginning 7:00 a.m. on December 30.

Passes for Christmas Day for 10 per cent of the men will be for December 23-26, while New Year's passes will be December 31-January 2 for 10 per cent of the men. Preference for the furloughs of 14 days will be given to men living greatest distances from the fort.

Each commanding officer will decide when men get each furlough or pass period. Then a list will be compiled showing the method of travel and destination of each man. With these transportation companies can have facilities available to handle the increased traffic with little difficulty.

Custer men eligible for the American Defense Medal for service before December 7, 1941, and the Army of Occupation of Germany Medal announced earlier this year will have to wait until the end of the war before they receive their medals. It has been learned here from the War Department, Manufacturing facilities are not available at present for the medals. In lieu of the medals, the men may still wear the ribbons which have been manufactured for six months.

Coffee-drinking civilians feeling rationing going into effect can take some ideas on conservation practices in use at Fort Custer.

These have helped cut down the amount of coffee required for 100 men from 7 pounds to 4 without disturbing the quality or quantity of the beverage.

Soldiers have also been cut down from 60 servings of coffee every 30 days in 1941 to 40 times a month now. These servings may be reduced to 30 times in 30 days but suitable substitutes will be served at the other two meals.

Milk, tea, cocoa, fruit juices and the like are provided and preferred by many men.

Rules promulgated by "The Army Cook," the sergeant's Bible, for insuring good coffee are:

1. Use airtight containers for roasted and group coffee.

2. Measure carefully quantities of both coffee and water.

3. Throw away grounds removed from coffee. Do not use spent grounds to make additional coffee or add fresh coffee to the grounds for subsequent brews.

4. Be sure to bring the water to a boil, then add coffee and water to the water until the water has cooled slightly below the boiling point.

5. Serve coffee as soon as possible after completion of the brew.
The brew should not be completed more than 15 minutes prior to time of serving.

6. Scour the coffee boiler daily.

7. After removing the grounds from mullin sack, the sack should be washed in lukewarm water, thoroughly rinsed in cold water, and be kept in cold water until ready for use.
