Scavenged From Ruins
In England, precious pots and pans for factory canteens have been scavenged from ruins in bombed coastal towns.

Peat Resources
Recent government reports show that the United States has sufficient peat reserves to supply each family with about 450 tons. Peat could be used for home heating in case of a serious coal famine.

Grating Crops
A mixture of small grains, four to five bushels per acre, and some crimson clover will keep the hogs growing.

Gas Consumption
The daily gasoline consumption of the U. S. army and navy would start 2765 large-size railroad tank cars, or 46 trains of 60 tank cars each.
