Ready for Spring?

One thing certain is that Spring is on its way and we hope that victory will follow shortly after. You must be prepared for both, plus a season of work and fun. You will want to look and feel your best at all times.

As far as looks is concerned, the most smartly dressed person will not be attractive unless he wears a smile. A pleasant expression and a cheery good morning will do more to leave a good impression behind you wherever you may go, than the most lavish and expensive clothing you could buy. Personal appearance is not just what you wear.

And when it comes to feeling good, how can you feel any other way, after getting up from a good night's sleep, eating a good breakfast, and looking out on a world all bathed in early morning sunshine, the birds singing and that "fresh" smell in the air?

Starting out the day in such a frame of mind, you'll be surprised to find how much you can accomplish, and how much easier your work will seem. There is plenty for everyone to do, for in addition to your regular vocation you will want to have a Victory garden—get it in early, give it the care it requires, and you'll find it was just the tonic the doctor ordered—both from the standpoint of the exercise and fresh air you'll get, and from all the fresh vegetables you will be able to enjoy.

And you women will have plenty of Red Cross work to do, and various patriotic duties to perform. And we'll all have a lot of letters to write—for a letter from a friend at home is one thing our people in service need, and there is nothing that will take its place, so let's keep the letters flowing.

Yes, it is going to be a busy summer, but with the coming of fall we should find great things accomplished—let's all do our part.

Young America

Have you taken time out to observe Young America during the past months? If not, you've really missed something.

At the Civic Theatre this week a collection is being taken each day for the benefit of the American Red Cross. Saturday afternoon was no exception, and if you could have seen the young audience dig down and bring up their pennies to put in the collection boxes, you would have felt that the youngsters somehow know more about what's going on than a good many adults do.

Likewise, if you've watched them at play, you know that the boys and girls in your block are alert to the times of the day. There was the instance of the little girl who couldn't get on their make-believe train, because she was going on a vacation. No sir—in order to ride on that train you had to be on your way to a war job, or you had to be a soldier or a sailor—or a WAC. And then there was the little boy who was not one of the gang because he continued to throw away the paper his lunch was wrapped in. As soon as he saved the paper, like the rest of the kids, he was taken right in.

We could learn a lot of lessons from the younger citizens of the community if we would just take the time to observe them.

Goat Dairy
 The amount of labor involved in keeping a goat dairy is somewhat greater than in a cow dairy because the time to milk a given amount of milk from a goat is about twice that required for a cow.

Molasses a By-Product
 Molasses is a by-product of sugar. It is the liquid drained off in the process of refining sugar from sugar cane—the substance left after all or at least most of the sugar has been extracted.

Coated Textiles
 Armored or coated textiles have improved and multiplied under war pressures that the consumer is assured of many better peacetime products. Fabrics coated and impregnated with presynthetic rubber, synthetic rubber and synthetic resins are serving a multitude of military uses. Outstanding is an army raincoat coated with "Bakelite" (phenol) acetal resin, which leaves a half pound of rubber per coat and reduces the weight of the garment by two pounds. The resin coating is better than rubber in many respects.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO (April 4, 1919)

Coming Home
 A telegram received by Charles Goers Wednesday morning, announced that Carl Goers had arrived in Camp Dix, Philadelphia, and hoped to be home in the near future.

Birthday Party
 Mrs. Arthur Lamb entertained 25 little girls Tuesday afternoon in honor of Miss Viola's birthday anniversary. Games and a delightful luncheon of ice cream and cake and wafers made a merry afternoon for the little ladies, Miss Viola receiving among other gifts 20 handkerchiefs.

Small Blaze is Discovered
 About 9:30 Tuesday morning smoke was discovered issuing from the windows and roof of the Harry Habermehl tenant house on Rogers street, and an alarm turned in. The fire was soon extinguished, the principal damage being from water, everything being soaked with water, considerable plastering falling off, and the roof badly damaged.

TEN YEARS AGO (April 5, 1924)

Norman Lee Becomes Postmaster
 Farmington's postoffice will be in new hands beginning Friday morning, when Norman C. Lee takes over the office as acting postmaster, by appointment of Postmaster-General James A. Farley. Notice from Washington of the appointment was received Wednesday by Postmaster Thomas H. McGee and Mr. Lee.

Township Voting Declines
 Farmington Township officials will continue in office through the coming year, following the re-election Monday of all of the present officeholders. Party distinctions were not drawn by the voters in expressing approval, with Joseph Graham, Democrat road commissioner, listed along with the Republicans as winners. However, the Democratic strength of a year ago, which caused a stiff battle for every office, showed a sharp decline on Monday.

Gains Made in Subscriptions To New Bank
 With Farmington businessmen, by their response, of the past week, indicating that they feel the need and desirability of banking facilities in the community, the outlook has improved for the proposed new bank, within the past few days. A steady volume of stock subscriptions has already made a substantial cut into the $3,000 that remained last week to make up Farmington's allotment required to match that of the Federal Government.

FIVE YEARS AGO (March 30, 1929)

City Expects Heavy Vote
 Voters of the City of Farmington are expected to go to the polls in greater numbers than in recent years on Monday, April 3, the date of the biennial spring election. Petitions canvassed by the Commission Saturday night indicate there will be four contests: for treasurer, justice of the peace, commissioner and board of review.

Farmington in Zone Plan
 Reduced suburban toll rates affecting this area will go into effect Saturday, April 1, making it possible to call Redford, Livonia and Southfield for fifty five cents. Savings of approximately $250,000 a year to phone users are expected to result from the revised tolls.

Six Years Older Than The Governor
 Just because he is 86 years old, John Thayer sees no reason why he should retire from the activities he has enjoyed all of his life. That is why Mr. Thayer's name will be found on the ballot Monday as a candidate for justice of the peace, an office he has held here before. As a result, Farmington compares favorably with Charlotte, the home town of Governor Luren Dickinson—except that the Governor is merely 79.

It was a hot, sultry summer day. The child was in her crib, swathed in bedclothes sufficient for an Upper Peninsula night in February, and obviously suffering from the heat.

"I'd like to ask a favor of you," said Dr. DeKleine to the mother. "This baby will probably not get well. Let's permit it to die in comfort. Take the baby out on the front porch, put her on a clean pillow, and remove all these heavy bedclothes."

The mother, in sorrow, complied. The baby abruptly went to sleep—and much to the mother's surprise and happiness, improved steadily and got well.

Louis A. Well, editor of the Port Huron Times-Herald, relates a officials want to have the form of county government "reformed" or "modernized"—or, to phrase it without suggestive implications, "changed." The voters of the county must obtain consent of the majority of the people of Michigan at the ballot box before the county can proceed with a program.

Such has been the case of the Wayne county, the Detroit metropolitan governmental unit. A proposed "home rule" plan was defeated by voters of Michigan two years ago, and it is now being revived for ballot consideration, of the people of Michigan next November.

Is this merely a Detroit vs. Upstate issue? There is growing evidence that such is not the case. (Continued on Page Seven)
