This Memorial Day

It's simple enough to go into the story of Memorial Day. Why we observe it — with what reverence services are held at the monument to the unknown soldier. And why in communities tribute to the United States, services are held paying tribute to the soldiers of that community who gave their lives fighting the wars for this country, and for us.

But if our reverence ends there, we've accomplished nothing and all the fighting that's been done has been in vain; all that's been fought for becomes a dream, still in the far distant future.

If we remember that the quest for peace does not end the day the last shot is fired, that we haven't achieved the glowing goal of PEACE with the end of hostilities, we shall have learned a masterful lesson.

Let us resolve this Memorial Day to take part in the peace plan for the future, and to be aware of our government's attitudes and actions. It is a part of the observance of Memorial Day that we must not overlook.

What About Your Record

We're proud of Michigan. Anyone who makes his home here can well be proud to say that he comes from the State of Michigan.

Michigan's part in winning the war will be a glorious chapter of its history. Michigan now leads the nation in total contributions to the United Clothing Collection. The payroll savings plan for war bonds was conceived and introduced in Michigan. The school war bond program was born in Michigan, and in Michigan there is a bank which issued more war bonds than any bank in the nation.

Our state has truly made an enviable record. Have we, as individual residents of this state, also made an enviable record? Or have we let our fellow citizens carry us along on the record they have made?

If we have been guilty of the latter, there is still time to make amends, but the time is now. The opportunity is provided by the Seventh War Loan Drive. This is a wonderful opportunity, too, to prove to our boys who are still carrying on our fight, that the home front is solidly behind them, and we will not let down until the victory is completely and finally won.

The hardest part of the war is yet to be won. The fighting in the Pacific is carried on under more adverse conditions than was the fighting in Europe, and not only must we continue to send the best of war materials into the Pacific, but it is going to take more of them. More because it is a known fact that war materials do not stand up under atmospheric conditions of the Pacific nearly as well as those same materials stood up under the strain of war in Europe. Materials that we do send must be wrapped and packaged three times as well as those that were sent to Europe.

Your purchases of Bonds will make the task easier — and it will be accomplished in a shorter length of time. That is why it is so important we back the Seventh War Loan Drive — buy Bonds now, and buy more.

Australians Live in Towns
Despite its rural character, Australia has about two-thirds of its people living in towns. Sydney and Melbourne alone hold a third of the nation's population. Coal from the state of New South Wales, and gold, silver, lead, copper and tin from scattered mines, have, especially in recent years, created the industries largely responsible for the growth of big cities.

Immigration to the U. S.
In the century of greatest immigration, 33 million people settled in the United States.

Indians Had Model Law
To our visiting relatives who overstay their welcome, the Palatine Indian tribe of Fort Bidwell had this law: "Visits from relatives and friends shall be permitted, but shall be limited to 14 days at one time, and shall not exceed 30 days in any one calendar year."

A Land of Contrasts
Our nearest Latin American neighbor, Mexico, is a land of contrasts — jungles, mountains and plateaus. Mining is the principal industry of a nation one-fourth the size of the U. S. Petroleum, agriculture and stock raising are also important.

BITS OF THIS AND THAT

By ELMER T. POCKINGTON

WHEN TO LIVE

There are those so busy planning for some distant day or year that they miss the chance of living in the days already here. They've no time to share the pleasures of the friends they might have had—
They've no time to share the sorrows of the ones whose luck is bad.

Life is not collecting treasures that the tax-collectors see; it is living to the pattern that was meant for you and me. It is getting keenest pleasure from a feeling, based on fact. That we've brought a bit of sunshine by some kindly word or act.

There are thousands who are happy though they've dreamed of wealth;

There are thousands who are happy though they've known but little health.

They have learned the joy of service, they have really learned to live—
Though it may be good to garner it is better far to give.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

FIVE YEARS AGO (May 23, 1940)
Expansion Planned In School Program

With a very successful school year drawing to a close, plans are now being made by the local authorities for improvements in the educational program to be placed in operation when school opens next September. According to plans announced by Superintendent O. E. Dunkel, and approved by the Board of Education, arrangements are being made to increase the opportunities offered to a greater number of students in several fields.

Memorial Day Parade Planned

The American Legion, Groves-Walker Post, and veterans of Farmington, will hold their annual Memorial Day parade and services on Thursday, May 30. Plans are being laid to make this year's parade the largest ever held in Farmington and a large number of organizations have been invited to participate.

Citizenship Day Draws Thousands

A number of young people from Farmington who this year reached the age of 21, together with "21ers" from throughout Oakland County, were honored Sunday at Pontiac. The occasion was Citizenship Day and the purpose was to induct new voters into the bonds of citizenship and to instruct them in their duties as citizens. An estimated crowd of 15,000 witnessed the ceremonies.

TEN YEARS AGO (June 6, 1935)

All Streets in City To Be Re-Surfaced

The City of Farmington will soon have one of the best street systems among small towns of this area. The crowding of a street resurfacing program now getting well under way, works out as well as expected. During a new process, every street in town is to be resurfaced with a semi-hard top, which will be dustless and durable.

Band Concerts Start Saturday

Summer concerts by the Farmington band will begin Saturday evening, June 8, at the band stand north of the Town Hall. It was announced by Edward Eaton, director of the band. A much longer program than has been given in the past will be presented. Sufficient seats for the audience will be erected.

Grower Reports: Hall Damage

Although one fruit-grower in this vicinity reported severe damage to his prospective crop by hailstones, orchard owners of the Farmington area are generally believed to have escaped much loss in the downpours of the past week. The grower who reported hail damage asserted that hailstones as large as a man's fist fell on his farm, ripping through the apple trees and working damage and destruction. He estimated the damage to be a considerable portion of his yield for the year.

Daily Masses at 6:15 and 8:00 a.m.

Surrender Ended War

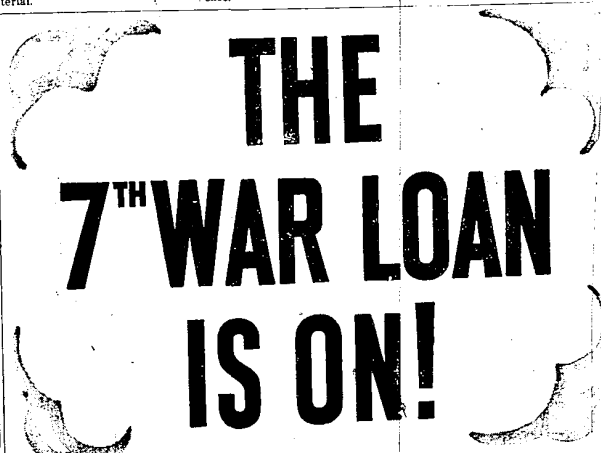

Lord Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown, October 19, 1781, ended the American struggle for independence.

Michigan consumption of brewer's yeast, rich in vitamin B, becomes a national phenomenon. Don't be too surprised.

The health vogue has spread across the nation. Lending to numerous state officials and state legislators, all with apparent beneficial results. One prominent official, formerly plagued by a "weak" heart and

Yes, the Seventh War Loan is on right now!

There are new planes to be built... new tanks... new ships. All to bring the war to an earlier close.

Our fighting men will do their job. But we must do ours!

And right now, the most important job we have is to meet our personal quotas in the Seventh War Loan drive!

Those quotas are big. Uncle Sam needs $7,000,000,000 from individuals. For this loan is really 2 in 1—there had been 2 drives in 1944, by this time. So now—we've got to do a two-loan job in one.

But Americans have never failed to meet a War Bond quota yet—and we won't fail now! So find out what your quota is—and meet it!

FIND YOUR QUOTA... AND MAKE IT!
