Get Acquainted

I know a lot of employers and I know a lot of workers, and they are both good guys. They ought to know each other better.

If an employer could go home with an average worker, he'd find that he's a good family man, fair-minded, honest, and interested in his work. But sometimes he's fooled by some professional rabble-rouser into thinking his boss is a skunk.

If a worker knew the average employer, he'd see that he is a worrying, headachy guy with a lot of troubles, willing to be fair, and not making nearly as much profit as you might imagine.

Just getting acquainted with each other would eliminate a world of misunderstanding.

It's Not Their Fault

With so many complaints registered against the railroad companies for their handling of troops, we'd like to say a word in their behalf. Officials of these companies, and other employees, right down to the men, have been striving to maintain an adequate railway service, and under great difficulties. The fact that you are not able to travel as comfortably now as you have in the past is no indication that these people have diminished their effort.

The War Department has known all along just how many sleeping and other passenger cars are available on American railroads, and they have had control of the man-power and the materials necessary for such preparation. If adequate means are not now at hand, it seems to us the responsibility rests squarely on top management, and not upon the railroads.

Let's try appreciating the service they give, rather than criticizing for that over which they have no control.

Remedial Measures

A number of bills now before Congress are designed to preserve freedom and promote justice by regulating bureaucratic regulators.

We are all familiar with the excesses of government agencies. They have involved OPA, agricultural agents, War Labor Board and others. Orders have been dropped from the sky, and we have had to learn from the radios what we could plant, and what we could buy and sell. Boards have fought citizens and bureaus have even battled bureaus in their grabs for authority. Powers never delegated have been usurped, and contempt for elementary decency in government has been commonplace.

Now Congress has remedial measures pending. Numerous bills, introduced in both the Senate and the House of Representatives, all provide essential safeguards for American justice.

Whether such legislation is passed, and the scope of such legislation, will depend largely on the support volunteered by the hometown folks whose liberty is to be safeguarded. If we believe in this cause we must let our Representatives and Senators know it. You'll be doing your bit to hasten our advancement to a state of freedom, where American initiative is our only regulator, if you'll lend your support to our law-makers, now, when they need it.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 12.

The Golden Text (I Co 2:11) is: "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God."

Among the Bible citations in this passage (John 4:24): "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him in spirit and in truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (334): "Spirit bein' God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one Infinite and therefore one God."

Civilians At War

The Government needs and asks its citizens in this 192nd week of war against Japan to:

1. Use only as much gasoline as you absolutely need. More gas is required for stepped-up Pacific War alone than was used when we were fighting on two fronts.

2. Can your surplus vegetables while they are plentiful. Recent rain-damage to crops makes home canned supplies even more necessary to supplement commercial output.

3. Fill one of the remaining openings for cadet nurses in September classes. If you are a high school graduate you may be eligible for valuable professional education free in a school of your

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO (August 13, 1920)

Big Parade To Be Feature

One of the big features of the Home-Coming Celebration will be the parade on the morning of Saturday, September 4. This parade is open to all who may desire to take part, and should attract business men and others to make floats advertising their business or decorate automobiles to make the parade attractive. A beauty contest is also a feature of the day.

Finds Chickens Killed

On Tuesday morning when Henry Palling went to his hen house he found 25 broilers piled up in the corner. The chickens were worth $1.00 each. There was not a mark on any of them to determine the cause of their deaths.

Lightning Strikes

On Tuesday afternoon lightning struck the barn on the John Thomas place, run over a hay mow, down a rafter and into the ground, without setting fire to the barn. The only damage was tearing the board to pieces.

TEN YEARS AGO (August 22, 1935)

Three Boys Return From Alaska

William Slocum, Jr., Fred Warner and Wade Dickerson, the three Farmington boys who accompanied 30 other boys and girls from various parts of the country on Mr. George Buchanan's annual Alaskan trip, have returned from their extensive tour lasting 28 days which took them across the United States, into Canada, and finally to their destination, Skagway, Alaska.

Fire Information To Be Restricted

Mayor Howard Warner states that information regarding fires that has been given out by the local telephone office for some time past seriously interferes with the official operation of the Fire Department. Frequently citizens securing this information use their cars and are on the way to the fire, hampering the firemen in their efforts. Accordingly it has been decided that fire information should be given to the Fire Department only.

Township Files Water Main Project

With prospects bright for acceptance of the first work relief project filed in July, the Farmington Township Board, which, if accepted, will provide a water main to be laid the length of Pearl Street.

FIVE YEARS AGO (August 8, 1940)

Zoning Board Meets Wednesday

The City Commission will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, August 12, at the City Hall. A special meeting of the Board of Appeals will be held Friday evening to consider an application for the construction of a building on the suburban section of Lot 65, Brookdale subdivision.

Residents Of Livonia To Get City Water

An extension of water mains from Detroit to several localities including Livonia Township seemed assured this week following an announcement that township officials have signed revenue bonds amounting to $125,000.

Aliens Must Register

The Farmington Post Office will take part in the registering and fingerprinting of aliens, announces Postmaster Norman Lee. Under orders sent out from official quarters in Washington, D.C., the Post Office department is to undertake the registration of all aliens in the United States and complete instructions are being sent out to all postmasters including the proper method of obtaining the fingerprints of each.

School Lunch Program To Continue In 1946

School Lunch Programs throughout the Nation will continue to receive Government assistance for the 1945-46 fiscal year.

Schools which participated in the program during the 1944-45 fiscal year are:

Processed Foods: Blue Stamps being reinstated upon request on Y2, Z2, A1, B1, C1 void August 31; a simplified agreement. The D1 through H1 void Sept. 30; through I1 void October 31; through J1 void November 30.

BITS OF THIS AND THAT

THE HUNT FOR HAPPINESS

"Human happiness is the by-product of human activities. It is something never achieved as an object."—L. M. Kellogg

Like the pot of gold at the rainbow's end

That no one has ever found,

Is happiness that crowns a life

To selfish pleasures bound.

Happiness never comes to one

Who on its quest is bent;

It only comes to bless the lives

In human service spent.

A selfish life is a little life—

A life that is spent in vain;

You'll never see a happy man

Whose only thought is gain.

Protein Sources
Protein is found in different forms in different foods. Meat is one of the most popular sources. We get animal protein from poultry, fish, eggs and milk and milk products. Most plant foods contain some protein. We get good plant protein from such foods as cereals, dried beans and peas, from peanuts and soybeans.

Nutrients of Spices
Most spices rate low in nutrients, but paprika and chili are reported to be exceptions. The former, a red spice from a mild-flavored pod pepper, rates high in vitamin A. Chili powder, now 10th on the list of spices, according to the amount consumed, also offers plenty of vitamin but lacks the C that is present in fresh and canned chili peppers.
