"Having wonderful time here"

"At one time I never would have believed that I could enjoy working in a kitchenbut that was before 1941, when I had an all-electric kitchen installed. Pardon me if I bubble over about it, but it's so fine in every way. . . . Electric cookery gives uniform results that keep my performance high and food wastage low-and the automatic features let me attend to other work while the range attends to the cooking. I have a lot of help, too, from my mixer, juicer, percolator, toaster and other helpers. And after meals are over, the dishes don't stare me in the face. It's no bother at all to scrape them into the sink (yes, I have a garbage disposal in the drain that grinds up scraps and washes them away) . . . then I stack the empty plates, and let the dishwasher take care of them. I figure the dishwasher saves me a total of a day's work every month. My hands don't get in the water at all, and there's a world of difference in their appearance. Truly, I am having a wonderful time in my kitchen. I hear that all-electric kitchens will be available again to other lucky women before too long. I know they'll love 'em."

What has been the greatest single factor in changing your way of living during the last fifteen years'. Almost certainly it has been electricity.
Electricity has taken over to release homemakers from drudgery... to increase comfort... to provide a better way of life.
Plan on turning on the electric life just as soon as appliances are again available. Find out what modeent appliances can do for you... how they operate evidence induces that he old featible will be a soon the old feating way... all those who know say that the electric way is the batter way.
