According to the way the Veteran is being shoved around these days, new legislation must be introduced or the health of the future of each veteran will be jeopardized.

I am certain that the average veteran has not thought of his future health unless it has been in the form of service pensions.
 They do not realize that the average veteran is ten years younger than the average Doctor of Medicine that cares for them while they were in the Army.
 There are about 65,000 veteran physicians and they have and are receiving a very poor deal from the politicians. Unless these veteran physicians are given better rights when they are released and I should say here, many are being let into the Army and in Veterans' Hospitals against their will, the veteran will suffer. Surely you veterans don't expect to come back and get care from a physician that took no part in either war. If he had been interested in you he would have been in the help out when you needed him most. It is going to be up to you to see that the Doctor of Medicine that took care of you when you were in the service, gets a square deal now or you will not get the care you need in the future.

New Banana Plantation
 A Major Development
 Starting a banana plantation is a very different sort of a job than planting an apple orchard, for example. Because of the ravages of disease, wearing out of soil, and other reasons, it is frequently necessary to abandon a banana plantation and move to virgin land. Dr. J. A. Dyer of the United Fruit Co. says that the banana is cleared away. The land is then plowed and planted and more ready for planting. At each stage, 15 to 20 feet apart each way, a hole about one foot deep is dug and a 3 to 4 pound piece of healthy rhizome is planted.

After planting and before the sprouts appear above the ground, all the big timber is cut out, leaving a tangle of branches, logs and stumps. Then through this jungle, roads and railroad lines must be cut. The tangle mass of timber soon rolls away, making a good mulch and adding humus to the soil.
 It thus provides excellent growing conditions for the young banana plants. In about three months the plantation is ready for the first cleaning which involves trimming off the branches of the felled trees and cutting weeds and other tropical growth. This is repeated about every three months.

In the meantime roads are completed, railroads are laid, housing for the employees is prepared and except for the planting of the rhizome, this is usually a race against time. In 12 to 15 months after planting, the fruit is ready for harvest.
 Cutting must be geared to the harvest, because the banana has to be in the consumer's hands in a limited number of days after it is taken green from the tree. On the ship special equipment maintains the fruit at the proper temperature and humidity.

Sparkling Windows Add To Charm of Home
 To make sure that windows will be bright and clean, do not use soap and water on the panes. Soap streaks the glass and is hard to rub dry. Clear warm water can be used if the glass is not too dirty. If grease and dirt cling to the panes, add a little ammonia or alcohol to the water to get the windows clean.
 Use four tablespoons of dilute ammonia for each gallon of water.

Windows can be cleaned and dried quickly and easily if the water or solution is sprayed on. The spray gives a thin, even film of the liquid all over the glass.

If you do not have a spray, the next best way to wash windows is with a chamois, which takes up water quickly and thoroughly and leaves no lint, as cloth often does. A piece of chamois may also be used to dry the windows. For windows that are left open often, protect the sills from rain spots and water with a coat of paint, after washing and drying the sill. Apply a thin layer of wax and polish until the wax is hard enough to provide a protective finish.

Behind
 Your Bonds
 Lies the Might of America

VEGETABLES IN WAR
 Vegetables, like grains and meat, do double duty to help bring the war to quick victory. They provide vital food for fighting men and are potential wealth that help make War Bonds the best investment in the world. Ohio produces some 70 million dollars worth of truck garden products, potatoes and the like.
 Over 5,000 acres in Wood county are devoted to tomatoes, San-ducky county has 1,500 acres in cabbage. The tomatoes sketched above are going into a cannery to add to next winter's food reserves.
