Hotel Income
In normal peacetime years food and liquor sales produced less hotel income than room rentals but the situation in the past two years has been reversed. Before the war food sales contributed approximately one-quarter of the industry's income, with liquor sales slightly less, but in wartime both divisions each have been credit responsible for approximately 25 per cent.

Fish Pond
A single acre of pond can produce 150 to 400 pounds of pan-size fish a year.

Happy Birthday, Comrades

James Fanzel Jr., Sept. 30 Two new members were brought into the local Farmington Post, V.F.W. of the United States at the meeting last Wednesday night, and a third received his obligations.

John H. Martini is home from overseas, having a long and interesting tour at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James-Martin of 2005 Reseller Street. We are sure glad to see you home John.
The welcome was also extended to a new comrade, Edward J.
Parker of 1812 Wakendine. Both of these comrades are veterans of the European War. We greet them and know they have done their part to bring the war to an end.

The third new member is still out in the Pacific, Vlado Regentik, who lives on Main Street, Wal-lides, when he is home with his wife and family.

We are sorry to hear that Senior Vice-Commander Frank Weidens of the Michigan Mutual Fire on E. Jefferson and Jos. Cam-pan, and we wish for his speedy recovery.

Russell Duck is at home at 2123 Jefferson. We have been waiting for Russell to join us for a long while and were welcome him to Farmington. He is home on fu-lough and will have to go back, but that's another story. We come, Russell.

Progress is being made for a V.F.W. dance to be held in the near future, more will be forthcoming. The dance will be for the public, so everyone can get acquainted with the fighting men of Farmington.

Everyone out at the next meeting, October 3, at the Town Hall.
You can now join up for 1916.
See a member of the local Farmington Post and sign your name today. Dues paid now will carry through until January, 1917.

Develop Plastic Materials
For Skin Implants

It is now possible to cover a mechanical hand with a plastic material, simulating the human texture and skin tracery, even to the fingernails, according to an article of the American Journal of Surgery.

Technicians at the University of California have advanced so rapidly, the article stated, that lifelike restorations for missing hands and fingers can now be provided, doing away with the dreadful prosthetic devices worn for aesthetic reasons. The substitutions have a lifelike feel, wear well, and slip glove-like over the missing member. The edgery may be disguised by wearing a wristwatch.

In addition to post-operative emotional shock suffered by patients after amputation, they were usually disturbed to discover that although their surgery was individualized, their replacements were not. Artificial limbs were formerly supplied in three sizes, without personal similitude.

Watering Plants

Even though you've got good information, sometimes you can injure your trees and shrubs by the way you water them. The idea is to do a good job of watering no oftener necessary. For if you sprinkle lightly frequently, and the water doesn't soak down more than two or three inches deep you've done your plants a bad turn. The roots may grow toward the surface and unusually dry dry weather will kill them off too readily. Incidentally, this is one reason why hand watering with a hose is seldom satisfactory. For one thing, most folks are too impatient and will water up before the job is well done. And for another thing, usually the water is sprayed on too fast. The ideal way is to apply a small amount of water per inch of soil, and repeat several hours. Then you won't have to water so often.

Preparing Compost

Compost should be prepared in some out-of-the-way place where water may be obtained for wetting it down. It is well to select a depression where leeching can occur. Fill the materials in layers in the proportions of about one part of fresh cattle or horse manure or de-cayed plant remains to two-parts soil. The thickest layer should be only six or seven inches thick, and the pile may be as large and as high as needed to give the desired temperature. It may be in the form of a rick four to six feet high, and in that case there should be a trough or depression on the top to catch and hold rain water or water applied through the hose.

Speed Plane Development

The first Boeing B-17 Flying Fortress was built in 1935 and its production started in 1936. The Consolidated B-24 Liberator was designed in 1938 and was in production early in 1941. The North American B-25 Mitchell was designed in 1938 and the Martin B-26 Marauder in 1939. Both were in production by February, 1941. The Lockheed P-38 Lightning was designed in 1936, made its first flight in 1939. It went into production in January, 1941.
The Bell P-39 Airacobra and the Curtis P-40 Warhawk were being produced by 1940, and the Republic P-47 Thunderbolt and the North American P-51 Mustang in 1941.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greve and family wish to thank everyone for all that was done at the time of the tragic death of Velma, Carl-ton, Marvin and Gordon Williams.
Thanks also for the flowers, and donations of food and clothing for the three children who were left, to all who in any way helped to lighten the burden of sorrow.
