

Around The Block

THE CHANT OF THE AUCTIONEER . . . will ring out in Farmington next Saturday afternoon at the big Kiwanis Auction. There will be hundreds of articles to be auctioned off to the highest bidder — and everyone from the articles to the furniture. It is a right through grand old time something that he'd like to have. All he has to do is make a bid, and the sale is on! Either a Jeep or a Willys Station Wagon is to be given to a lucky winner, and there will be other free prizes, too! Tickets are now on sale, and you may buy them on the grounds of the auction, at the Precise Parking Lot, Farmington Road and State Street. The Band Boosters Club will have a refreshment stand on the ground, and you can get a plate luncheon or a sandwich, as you may prefer. It will be a big day, and it promises to be lots of fun. See you there. Remember, all proceeds benefit the underprivileged children.

LIKE NOTHING . . . There's nothing like a good one-day — and yearning for a furnace fire the next. At least one never gets bored. We thought for a while that we'd have to do "Around the Block" from a row boat, but although the ground still feels spongy underfoot, the sidewalk walks have dried off. We've seen quite enough of the fun in nature to last us for a while, too. Fortunately though we are to have escaped the most disastrous consequences, it was still plenty for us.

WE QUOTE FROM A TOMSTONE . . . dated 1848, in the Clarenceville Cemetery. The epigraph contained thereon reads:

"Behold me now as you pass by,
As I am now, so once was I;
As I am now, soon you must be,
Prepare for death and follow me."

THAT ROUGH AND READY . . . you saw about Wednesday night really needn't have alarmed you at all. It was just the Kiwanians, dressed in their work clothes, out collecting articles to be auctioned off this Saturday. We're surely know whom to call upon when we need some moving done.

THE FACES OF THE POPULACE . . . after a study indeed on Tuesday evening — and on into Wednesday — after the primary returns began coming in. There's nothing that quite compares to the beam on the face of a person who is completely satisfied and happy with the results of the election. It kind of does one's heart good just to see somebody so well pleased.

Firemen's Pay To Be Raised

The regular monthly meeting of the Farmington Township Board was held Tuesday evening in the Township office.

The Board accepted a plan of the Earl Lathrup property, located West of the Farmington City limits.

The Board also acted to increase the salaries of the volunteer firemen. Concurring with the City, Township officials voted to increase the salaries of the volunteer firemen at the rate of $2.00 for the first hour and $1.50 for each hour thereafter. The present rate is $2.00 for the first hour, and $1.00 for each hour afterwards. This pay increase is effective beginning July 1, 1946.

The only other matters to come before the Board were routine.

The meeting was held on the scheduled day although it was also Primary Election Day. However most of the Township officials were absent and no unusual matters were on the agenda.

The bride wore a street length dress of white crepe, with delicate caruations and a corsage of white carnations and white roses. Her Miss Bertha Hanson, was maid of honor and she wore a flowered print dress with a corsage of white carnations and red roses.

JUNE 29 TAG DAY WILL BENEFIT HEALTH PROGRAM

Mrs. Charles J. Cronin, 2530 Greening Boulevard, is the Farmington chairman for Tag Day for the benefit of St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, to be held in Farmington on Saturday, June 29.

The influence and achievements of the Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital are felt in every community of Oakland County. This great project was started fifteen years ago, and the development has been made possible through Tag Day receipts and contributions given throughout the year.

Over 9000 patients were taken care of at the clinic during 1945, and nearly 400 pairs of glasses were given to those who otherwise would have received them.

Also much necessary equipment was purchased. All equipment used for the non-paying patients. The Auxiliary is anticipating another forward step in their humanitarian work. It is their hope that in the future they may be able to help finance some student or students who are anxious to make nursing their vocation, but who do not have the finances to enter the Nurses Training School. Your generosity on Tag Day will help make this plan a reality.

Church Assignments Are Made At Annual Methodist Conference

At Annual Methodist Conference

The Methodist Conference has just assigned pastors to churches for the year. Here in Farmington, Rev. A. Stanley Stone will return for another year.

Many people will also be interested to know that Dr. Sidney D. Evas was assigned to Jaffray Methodist Church, Detroit. Dr. Evas was in Farmington from 1919 through 1925, and it was under his pastorate that the present Methodist Church was built. His position has been District Superintendent.

Rev. Elsie A. Johns will return to the Clarenceville Methodist Church. Under the direction of Miss Johns this church has made a remarkable growth since the pastor's assignment to the church in 1941. At that time Miss Johns and her assistant, Marian Owen, came to Clarenceville, and their ministrations began July 3, 1941. Although the service was well publicized and some calling had been done, nobody came — but the service was held just the same. For five Sunday services were held throughout the audience, and on the sixth Sunday morning two women came to the service. That first winter Miss Owen and Miss Johns did all the work about the church, including the janitor work, and a good deal of scrubbing and painting. Little by little they were rewarded, and the growth of the church was slow and steady.

Today, Clarenceville Methodist Church has an active membership of 152 members and a Sunday School enrollment of 300, with an average attendance of better than 180. The church has a fine Youth Fellowship, a Women's Society of Christian Service, an adult choir, a Junior choir and a fine orchestra.

Miss Owen left the church when she became the bride of Rev. Kenneth F. Smith of the Hill Street Baptist Church at Jackson, Michigan. In August, 1945, Miss Wilma Hood became director of music and religious education, coming to Clarenceville from the Wesley Methodist Church at Detroit.

DAY CAMP POSTPONED BY WEATHER

It has been necessary to postpone the opening of the Girl Scout Day Camp due to the wetness of the camping grounds, and accordingly no day camp was held this year.

The camp councilors announced that the camp for all girls of the community will now be held for five days next week, June 24 through June 28, both inclusive, at the Fort Reuben Clark Camp. Hours are from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. each day, and all girls are requested to bring nosebags, lunches for the opening day.

Summer Program To Begin Soon

The playground recreation program which has been held for several years during the summer months, will again be carried on this year beginning June 24 and continuing until the middle of August.

Margaret Leach, supervisor of the program, announced today that the time from nine in the morning to twelve o'clock noon will be given to children from ages of four to nine and from one until three-thirty will be for older boys and girls. However, if it is found that too few are interested, it is possible the afternoon will also be included in the younger children's program.

The playground area consists of the premises surrounding the school and also the athletic field behind the school. The boys and girls are asked to report to the small classroom in the back of the gymnasium auditorium building.

The morning hours are made up of such activities as story telling and the reading of stories, games, the sand box and the use of facilities already placed on the playground. During the rainy days the children have access to crafts and other indoor activities. It is hoped that some handicraft work will be obtainable this year.

For the older boys and girls, baseball is among the favorites; Shuffleboard, badminton and tennis are also popular. There are several tables in a gym mood this summer.

One boy has a flower project, and another has a project in the making. Track work will be added if enough interest is shown.

The wading pool, which is located near the athletic field, will be in use. This activity takes place in the afternoon, and on those days the younger boys and girls are allowed to attend.

So remember the date, June 24 and come one, come all!

Self-Government Practised At Boys Republic

A society in miniature is the best description of an unusual Farmington institution which since 1907 has been giving youths of Detroit and Michigan lessons in self-government. It is Boys' Republic, located at Nine Mile and Inkster Roads, Farmington, where 100 boys make and enforce their own rules, pay their own way through their own efforts and make what they need.

Boys' Republic is a self-governing school for delinquent boys. It was founded in Farmington in 1907 and is well known throughout the country. More than 3,000 boys from 14 to 17 years of age have been enrolled in the school for many years known as Ford Republic.

In this institution the boys are aided in learning how to adjust themselves and to prepare themselves for normal living in their own communities. They elect their own officials, make their own laws, conduct their own court, operate their bank and store. They are taught useful pursuits and earn while they learn.

A boy becomes a citizen after his first 30 days of adjustment. As a citizen he may vote at state meetings and participate in the
