CLARENCEVILLE NEWS

MRS. AXEL RUTILA

The three patrols of Scouts of CL 2 came home June 9 from the Burton Woods Camp with one blue ribbon and two red ones. The Apache Patrol hit the perfect mark and the Panther Patrol and Stag Patrol achieved the standard mark. The entire assembly of boys from all troops were on their own and were judged on setting up camp, cooking, fire building with and without matches, judging, first aid, knot tying, compass and axmanship. Unusual demonstrations were counted for fifty some additional points. The boys of CL 2 gave their first aid exhibit that they had used at Detroit City Hill in the early spring. The weather was perfect, which was most unusual for these Scouts for it is at that time every time they plan a camp out it rains. Saturday evening an instructor from Redford High School's manual training school showed Scouts, friends and parents present an elaborate exhibit of metal, leather and wood handicraft, the exhibit including a coach entered in a General Motors scholarship contest. He stated that he had never seen a younger boy with a hobby who was a full time instructor. A camp fire followed, lit in an impressive ceremony by a troop from Plymouth, after which awards and advancement were given out by Mr. Speck of headquarters. CL 2's first class awards went to Fred Peters, Tom Allan, Kenneth Grim and Charles Brumbaugh. Second class awards went to Gerald Doe, Bob Rous, Lesau, Ed Grimm, Fred Peters, Tom Allan, Charles Westberg, Dan Geygan, Bob McGowan, Dale Montette and Joe Tank. Merit badges were awarded Fred Peters, metal; Glenn Grimm, home repairs; Carl Bailey, mauler; Don Rutilla, star scout award, and freemanship, home repairs, music, personal health, first aid and safety merit badges, and Gerald Doe, art.

The Eight Mile C. F. Smith store has been repaired to its normal dignified and substantial look with the return of its old manager, Russ Waack, from a lengthy vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Waack flew to Florida and spent some time there. A grocery store is like an old shoe — so comfortable — and any change is highly noticeable. We are glad to report Mr. Morone is able to be up in a wheelchair in Harper Hospital.

Parents and friends of the Cubs are missing a great deal of fun when they fail to attend the inter-triple in ninth saves AMVETS FROM SHUTOUT

Twelve hits and eight runs was a little too much for the Novl Amvets to overcome last Sunday when the Ramulus nine clipped the Novl lads 8-2.

The Amvets collected their two runs in the sixth inning when Second Baseman Crumm lead off with a walk. Hanson sacrificed, advancing Crumm to second and Stevenson tripled scoring Crumm. Drouillard then grounded out to third scoring Stevenson and Charland was put out ending the game.

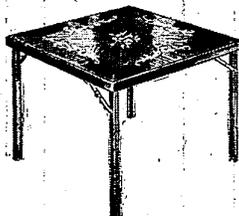

Hanson was the winning hurler and Ramulus the loser.
