By MRS. AXEL RUTILA

Twenty-two members of the Methodist Church spent the week end at Lake Orion. Mr. and Mrs. Brandt and Mr. and Mrs. Sidwell and their chaperones. The young folks who go along on these week ends are so wonderful, memorable times.

The Scouts of CL 1 are spending their week of summer camping at Cassville, Michigan, with Gus Davis as the leader.

Little Ephraim Mann, daughter of the Arthur Manns, celebrated her birthday on Tuesday afternoon with a party for the neighborhood youngsters.

The Drum and Bugle Corps of Boy Scout Troop CL 2 have been invited to participate in the parade and homecoming celebration at Wayne, Michigan, next Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Speck of Detroit heard and saw the boys perform at Irish Hills and recommended them to the Wayne committee. They have been in existence only since May 20, and have worked up their own drumming and bugling. Mr. John Holroyd, a veteran of the Scotch Highlanders, gave the boys some valuable help Friday night. Mr. Holroyd was one of the English first scouts. When he was only a boy, he came upon a copy of Lord Baden Powell's "The Scout" while browsing through a bookshop one day. He and five other young lads formed a unit and scouted and hiked about England; and branched out and formed six patrols. Later they were interviewed by Lord Powell.

During World War 1 Mr. Holroyd visited the town and headquarters of the national troops and found they had grown to a membership of about 3,000. CL 2 Scouts will take part in Farmington's V-J Day Parade on August 14, also.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kautamaki of St. Francis spent the week end in Ohio.
