Around The Block The Farmington Enterprise THERE'S NO MISTAKING . that seeling of fall in the air. The evenings are crisp and cool, and jus ideal for a boot, brick walk before (urning in and calling it a day. I seems pretty early to be so cool, but perhaps there is a long period o "Indian Summer" in store for us this year — one of the lovellest time of the year it is, too.

VACATIONS are over for almost everyone now and working people have returned to their positions for another year. Vacations are over, too, for the youngeters, for Farmington Schools;open next week, and the boys and give will be back at their deask for another year. It will seem good to see the city filled with laughing, happy boys and girls. We always inlist them school is first out in the spring and it seems so quiet and unnatural.

TEDDY e in Farmington know the friendly collie and shepherd dog, an time or another the greatest percentage of Farmingtonites has the door to let him dash up the statist. And that is why man feeling a little sad to think that Teddy died jast Sunday. H Teddy had pa sed his 15th dogdom. And now he rests ... soon forget him either.
