Local Camp Fire Girls Mark 62nd Birthday

Camp Fire Girls of Farmington are joining with others in Oakland County to celebrate the organization's 62nd birthday Saturday, March 25.

The celebration in the Oakland Mall includes displays, demonstrations and stage performances involving all levels of the Camp Fire program from Blue Birds to Discovery Club and Horizon Club members.

It commemorates the founding of Camp Fire in 1910.

displays are items contributed by Farmington Camp Fire Girls to the Needlework Guild of America.

The local girls have been working for weeks making more than 100 items such as quilts, stuffed animals and clothing.

These items will be used by the guild, a national organization, for distribution in hospitals and homes for the sick or aged.

skills, and Farmington girls have scheduled exhibits of flower-arranging and candy-making.

Three Farmington groups, led by Mrs. Barbara Lanigan, Mrs. Joyce Henick and Mrs. Sherry Deeg, are joining forces to present a short concert under the direction of Mrs. Kay Bock.

Camp Fire girls in other parts of Observerland will delay official celebration of the birthday and will stage an exhibit, probably some time in April.

HIGHLIGHTED among the celebration includes demonstrations in various
