Bailey Issues Facts On DDT

DDT, the miracle bug killer, is in very new story —especial food and feed crops still a very new story —especially as far as food and feed crops go. Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent, says DDT reacts on plants in different ways under different climatic conditions.

different climatic conditions. For household and livestock in-sects, DDT is the best insecticking found so far for housefflies, sta-ble flies, mosquitoes, roaches, bed-bugs, lice and brown dog ticks. The county agent warns, however, nev-er to use oil solutions of DDT on animals. Care also should be tak-en in the spraying of edible fruits and vegetables and of corn folder to be fed to livestock.

and vegetables and of corn fodder to be fed to livestock.

Some report that DDT does not do a thorough job of killing house-flies. It is perhaps because they are not using the insecticide properly. Mr. Balley warns. Except in an aersol bomb, at least a 5-percent solution is needed for house-flies. Shooting the spray into the air without covering the walls, door-sills, screen doors and other places where flies collect is not efficient. It is the residual effect of the spray that has the healting killing quality. It sprayed only into the sir, the residual effect does not remain.
