NEW YORK — The difficulties of living in a model house were uncovered recently when a metropolitan daily's staff writer interviewed George Peabody of Westport, Conn., who has constructed an all-aluminum house, reported to be the first in the New York metropolitan area. Although Mr. Peabody, his wife and two sons are well satisfied with their sparkling new home, they feel more like they are living in a goldfish bowl than a solid structure sealed from the public eye by walls of durable metal. "Practically every day we've had lines of people clamoring to see the house," says Mr. Peabody, shown as he attempts to ward off another invasion by the curious public.

CLARA BILLING IS BRIDE OF JACK SIMPSON

White gladioli and glowing tapers in tall candelabra adorned Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church on Friday, September 12, at eight o'clock in the evening for the marriage of Clara M. Billing and Jack J. Simpson. Rev. Carl Schultz officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Billing and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white satin, fashioned with a drop shoulder yoke, fitted bodice, long sleeves and a circular train. A Juliet cap, set with mother of pearl, held her fingertip veil of white net. She carried yellow roses with an orchid corsage.

Cora Billing, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Walter Gagnon and Mrs. William C. Prisk, sisters of the bride, Marlene Simpson, sister of the groom, and Edna June Lutz.

The honor maid wore a dusty rose gown with a velvet bodice and tulle skirt with matching gauntlets. The other attendants wore gowns of moss green and white, identical to that of the maid of honor. All carried bouquets of roses and gladioli and wore floral headpieces.

Ralph Wilson of Pontiac was best man and guests were seated by Glen Wilson, Hugo Pascoe, William C. Prisk and Walter Gagnon.

The organ was played by Mrs. Ruth Hick Hammond and Mr. Asht Hammond sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly". At the completion of the ceremony the choir of the church sang "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of gray crepe. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of aqua wool. Both mothers had corsages of roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Maccabee Hall in Clarencerville. Two hundred guests attended.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS PLAN ACTIVE PROGRAM

The door prize for the day was donated by Hatties Hardware. Other prizes were English Bone China and handmade needle work, given by the Mothers.

These luncheon card parties are given the second Wednesday of each month in the Farmington Town Hall, beginning at 1:00 p.m. The public, as well as the Blue Star Mothers, is invited to these parties which benefit our servicemen in hospitals and the Rehabilitation Home on Indian Lake.

The Department of Michigan, Blue Star Mothers of America, Inc., held a program for the burning of the mortgage on their lodge on Indian Lake, on Labor Day. The Mothers had funds exceeding the amount required to clear the mortgage.

The Farmington Blue Star Mothers will sponsor a bake sale to be held on Saturday, September 13, at Grimes Cleaners. You are invited to shop at the sale, and buy a supply of delicious baked goods for the week end.

Good Old Days! "Eighteen hundred and froze to death," is the title often given the year 1816 in Vermont. A foot of snow fell on June 8, and snow fell in July and August. Virtually no crops were harvested and the suffering was so intense that many Vermonters migrated westward.
