VETERANNEWS
From the OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS LANSING

NEW STANDARDS FOR TRAINING IN AGRICULTURE

The passage of P.L. 377 by the 80th Congress establishes new standards for training in agriculture. Effective September 1, 1947, the combination of classroom study and practical farming is treated on the same basis as other full-time institutional training, wherein the full responsibility for proper direction and study lies with the facility offering the course; in Michigan, the veterans' institute.

On-farm training can be briefly described as follows: 1) Full-time training consisting of enrollment in an approved institution for attendance in organized classes. Hours fixed for classes remain at 200 per year. 2) 100 hours of instruction on farm by a qualified instructor. 3) Specific work and study assignments to be carried out by the trainee between visits of the instructor.

The length of the training program is dependent on the need of the veteran within the limits of his eligible time. The State remains the approval agency for institutions offering courses and the individual plans submitted by veterans seeking to enroll.

Application is made directly to the approved institution (veterans' institute) in the community. New forms which will come into use are V.A. 7-1921, to be used in making application to the institution; and V.A. 7-1922, for reporting earnings to V.A. during the training period.

The Veterans Administration will pay the same scale of tuition and instruction fees charged other students in similar courses, on an agreed rate determined to be fair and reasonable. Books and other supplies needed in classroom work will be paid for, but no supplies or equipment necessary to the operation of the farm will be included.

Subsistence payments remain the same: $65.00 for single veterans, and $90.00 for those with dependents, subject to the $200.00 ceiling covering total earnings and subsistence.

FOR YOUR SAFETY

Every known facility for safe operation and control of an automobile is built into it. These safety features have been given gruelling tests, they have been proved and perfected by years of the finest engineering experience. But their maintenance and handling are up to you. Safe driving depends upon the efficient operation of these factors.

Watch your steering gear for excessive play—keep your brakes in trim, inspect tires for weaknesses that may result in blowouts. Be sure all lights are working, "one-eyed" cars are dangerous. Check your mirror for clear rear-vision. Be sure your horn works—but don't abuse its use. Do your windshield wipers wipe?

Remember, no matter how good the safety features of your car—they are only as good as your ability to control them. If you are overtired from driving strain—stop, rest, drink a cup of coffee. If you are mentally or nervously upset, let someone else drive. If you've been drinking, stay off the road.

Keep your car—and yourself—always in condition for safe motoring,
