the LOUVERED FENCE

takes more time to build but the results are interesting. Use 1"x6" boards. The angle is determined by placing each edge of the board flush with the rail. Cut a 2"x2" block for uniform spacing of the boards as illustrated. This style of fence may be built with one section on top of the other; see illustration.

'Second' Acts Like Alcohol

Questions should be sent to the Community Commission on Drug Abuse, P.O. Box Drugs, Livonia, 48151.

Q. What is this stuff "Second"...and what does it really do to you?

J.B. Westland

A. Second, also known as "red devils," "red barrels," "red dolls" is a barbiturate ("barbs," "downers") medically used to induce sleep. The effects are comparable to those of alcohol: reflexes are slowed, there is a feeling of giddiness (or drunkenness), speech becomes slurred, balance becomes difficult to maintain.

Q. Is it dangerous to take downers?

A.M. Redford

A. Look at this way: "Downers" act a lot like alcohol, but it is difficult although not impossible to kill yourself by consuming too much alcohol at one time since the large volume and irritating properties of alcohol generally lead to vomiting before a lethal dose is taken.

Unfortunately, a lethal dose of this sort of capsules or pills could easily fit into a teaspoon. Once swallowed the drug acts swiftly to depress vital functions, and (in an overdose) to kill.

Q. How does an overdose of sleeping pills effect you?

S.M. Livonia

A. It slows down and ultimately stops the breathing mechanism - causing death. Q. Are there any long - term effects of barbs?

L.D., Livonia

A. There are many, but the two that deserve special attention are:

1) Tolerance develops. This means that the user needs larger and larger amounts to satisfy the need that develops more and more.

2) Addiction can result. The user comes to need the drug in order to keep from withdrawal which from this sort of drug can be even more difficult and dangerous than withdrawal from heroin.

Barbiturate abuse is on an increase in this area, and barbs are being sold to people under many different titles. Remember, they are very dangerous.

Bloodmobile Due Twice
