A "FLOWERY" TALE WITH AN UNHAPPY CONCLUSION

A most unhappy and unfortunate climax to an otherwise pleasant and profitable afternoon was the experience of Mrs. Clarence Bickling, proprietor of Spring Brook Gardens, Tuesday.

Mrs. Bickling attended the Michigan Florist Association's School of Design at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit. One hundred and six flower arrangements were created by leading designers, and judged and criticized.

At five o'clock Mrs. Bickling and her two companions left the hotel, and went to the paid parking lot where she had left her new automobile at ten o'clock that morning.

The car was not to be found. Detroit Police were immediately informed of the theft. There appeared to be no clues whatever, and no trace of the missing automobile has yet been found.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazer Hultz attended the pot luck supper of the Oakland County Rural Mail Carriers at the Masonic Hall in Birmingham on Saturday, January 24. The Birmingham carriers were hosts for the evening.

HATTON'S FARMINGTON HARDWARE

Know What?

We were right about those old dried apples last week. We still have 'em and they're getting drier and drier. Also the boys never got one smotherin' of pie before so we thought we would give that deal another whirl. Since pumpkin pie rates high on the list, sell you a big can of pumpkin for 17c. Give you the same deal on the cherries - 2/55c.

As we said before the dogs are having tough pickin' cause the customers are grabbin' off the soup bones. We felt sorry for them and grabbed a ton of dog food. It's all wrapped up in a couple of glass jars, 4 lbs. for 35c, all ready to serve. Gladly sell you a dozen jars of the stuff for $1.90.

Got a couple of pigs, too. Now these here pigs were constructed kinda funny for we got some smoked SHANKLESS picnics at 49c a pound. There were some well chops which we won't mention the price of, but the rib end of the loin roasts we give to you for 49c a pound, too. The leavin's were made into sausage for 59c a pound. Betcha you'd like to know what happened to the bacon. We've got that sliced up at 69c a pound.

Some guy out here in the country wanted to get rid of his chickens cause they wouldn't give with the eggs so we got 'em now, all strictly fresh dressed, either roasting or stewing at 59c a pound. Aint it a treat?
