Local Student Places
On U. of D. Honor Roll

Farmington student H. H. Gadebusch has won a place on the honor roll of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Detroit in recognition of his work during the last semester, during which he maintained a "B" average, the Rev. John F. Quinn, S. J., dean of the college announced recently.

PRESSURE SPRAYER RIDES GARDEN OF PESTS

LANSING, MICHIGAN — A new portable high pressure power sprayer for vegetable and fruit gardens, and small farms is now being made here by John Bean. The sprayer, which operates on gasoline or electric power delivers up to 3 gallons per minute at a wide range of pressures. Stead tank with jet agitation holds 15 gallons of material. enough to spray a good sized garden, or several trees. The manufacturer also recommends the sprayer for weed killing, fly and insect pest control and for spraying fruit or shade trees.

Decline In Prices Calls For Careful Study On Part Of Farmers

Recent drops in the commodity markets, particularly in wheat and corn, have prompted many farmers to wonder if they are headed for a recession or a depression.

Arthur Mauch, agricultural economist, points out that it's necessary to examine the facts before making a decision. Price declines have been noted in a number of commodities for some time. Fruit prices in the U. S. continued to drop for the fourth consecutive month. For some time now, hay, potatoes, apples, chickens, eggs, and wool have been selling for less than parity. The price of some industrial goods has been declining, too.

While grain has declined rather rapidly, farmers should remember that grain is still not cheap. Prices of corn and wheat still run higher than a year ago. Livestock feeders and dairy farmers will welcome lower grain prices that will make feeding ratios more favorable.

Future economic developments depend to a great extent on the attitude of the public. Mauch advises that "fear psychology" that makes people buy and sell without thinking could result in a serious depression. Good judgment and sound business planning can help to prevent such a drastic result.

Present indications are that the readjustment may be similar to the 1920's when agriculture suffered price declines while general business conditions were relatively good.

Despite future developments, the recent changes in price show what can happen to prices in a short period of time. The MSC economist believes the best plan for the farmer is to sell in one that helps him to absorb the shock of rapid price declines with the least possible loss and hardship.

Bailey Urges Use Of Certified Seed

Certified seed will help to guarantee a better crop, reports Karl D. Bailey, county agricultural agent.

New varieties that are better adapted to Michigan growing conditions are continually being developed. The new varieties may be superior in other ways such as higher yielding ability, improved disease and insect resistance, better quality, and better adaptation to harvesting by modern farm machinery.

Seed of superior crop varieties is produced by farmers of the state who are members of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association. All the seed produced by these farmers is checked by field representatives of the association in cooperation with the Michigan State college farm crop department. Certified seed must be of high quality in regard to such things as germination, freedom from weed seeds, grading and appearance.

Agent Bailey can furnish the names of growers who can supply certified seeds of various crops.

Varities recommended for this area for various crops include:

Oats — Eaton, Huron and Clinton. Barley — Bay and Wisconsin 35. Field Beans — Michelite. Soybeans — Manchou. Corn — Ohio M-15.

Building Materials To Be Shown At Michigan State

The great number of building materials being sold often makes it difficult to choose the right one. A feature of the Farm Building Conference at Michigan State college on March 11 and 12 will be a discussion of all types of building materials. Another attraction will be a display of building equipment and materials.

Members of the MSC agricultural engineering department will present interesting talks and representatives of various industries will be present to answer questions on farm building.

SLAUGHTER NOW FOR SUMMER MEAT SPECIALIST STATES

Now is the time to round up that steer you've been fattening all winter or to select the hog you want for your summer meat supply. E. D. Farwell, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college, warns that farmers shouldn't wait until it is too warm to keep fresh meat without spoilage. With spring not far away, and the planting rush that comes with it, there is no better time to slaughter than now.

Each farm family should have about 150 pounds of meat per member per year and plans should be made to store half of that supply now. A 250-pound hog will yield 170 to 180 pounds of pork, a 1000 pound steer will supply 550 to 600 pounds of beef, and a 100 pound lamb will yield about 50 pounds of lamb. Selection of young, healthy livestock in good flesh is best.

Donald Diehr Serving With Atlantic Fleet

Donald Arthur Diehr, fireman, second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Diehr of 27570 Hagerty highway, Farmington, is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Beltrami, which is making a cruise to Bermuda and Newfoundland for the second time in two months.

Operating in the Pacific during the latter part of the war, the Beltrami was transferred to the Atlantic Fleet in May, 1946, and since has made more than a dozen trips to American bases along the Atlantic coast, visiting Newfoundland, Bermuda, Panama, Cuba, Puerto Rico and other Caribbean ports.

As a unit of the Atlantic Fleet Service Force, the Beltrami keeps American ships and overseas bases supplied with food and equipment.
