BOOKS AVAILABLE
AT THE LIBRARYNew volumes at the Farmington Library include some very good books on child care. They are available to all city and Township residents who are invited to make use of the library facilities."Parents Can Be People" by Baruch is one of the new editions.
This book will give parents a better understanding of themselves and of their children. It will make parenthood less puzzling and more fun. Here is a practical and very readable discussion of the conflicts and attitudes of parents and children through babyhood and childhood. It clearly proves that the right perspective and point of view can make the problems of dealing with children understandable and interesting. Dr. Baruch is a parent herself and a teacher and consultant in the field of child problems and parent-child relationships."Contagious Diseases", Bauer.
Dr. Bauer, director of the Bureau of Health Education of the American Medical Association, writes in a general way of germs, infection, immunity and quarantine; then in detail he discusses diphtheria, scarlet fever, poliomyelitis, whooping cough, measles, smallpox, chicken-pox, rabies, itch, and the common cold. There are excellent chapters on home nursing, prevention and convalescence. It is clearly and simply written. It is not intended to be a substitute for the doctor, but rather a supplement to him."Understanding the Young Child" by Blatz. The world today has particular causes to be concerned with the problems of the growing child.
Children, no less than adults, are confronted by the uncertainties of a changing world, and the manner in which they become adapted to their society is the measure of their happiness and success in life. To that end an intimate knowledge of the development of the child is imperative if an understanding is to be reached. In this book, Dr. Blatz, one of the world's leading authorities in their field, points the way to that knowledge."Baby Manual" by Bundesen. The Baby Manual is a help for all mothers who want to give their babies the best possible care. It's the product of Dr. Bundesen's many years as one of our country's best known doctors and health administrators.
It has the combined knowledge of many of the nation's other leading baby specialists and obstetricians.
The book is highly practical. The thousand and one things connected with the baby's feedings, bathing and sleeping, with his general hygiene, with the prevention of his illnesses are all carefully described in great detail. The questions are divided into groups so that the mother need not read the whole book to find the answer to her problem.The library is open on Monday and Friday from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. and on Wednesday and Saturday from 3:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Ask Mrs. Lenth about these and other interesting books.W. H. Dailey Associated
