MRS. LEONARD FRITZ

On Saturday evening, June 26, at 7:30 o'clock, a candlelight service was held in the Farmington Methodist Church which united Beverly Deiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Deiser, in marriage to Leonard Fritz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fritz, of Akron. The altar was decorated with beautiful bouquets of white carnations and snapdragons.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Ivan Vernon, an uncle of the bride, sang "Bereave" and at the close of the ceremony he sang "The Lord's Prayer". The bride chose a traditional white satin gown, beautifully trimmed with ruffled lace. The hoop skirt gave the gown a quaint appearance. A white beaded headpiece held her finger tip veil in place. She carried a bridal bouquet of Johanna Hill roses centered with an orchid. She was given in marriage by her father.

The maid of honor, Miss Anstee Holgens of Eight Mile Road, wore a gown of deep aqua taffeta, and she carried tallisman roses. Bridesmaids were Lois Mitchell of Novi, Jackie Grenville of Farmington and Jean Schmidt of Warren. They wore pale yellow taffeta gowns, and carried pink roses. Their headpieces consisted of roses, the same as their bouquets. The two flower girls, cousins of the bride, wore white and aqua dresses, and carried baskets of flower petals.

William Koebbe of Saline, Michigan, was the best man and usher. Royce McCarty of Kalamazoo, Jack Anderson of Lansing and Bert Ishell of Mt. Pleasant. The double ring ceremony was used in the service, which was performed by Rev. A. Stanley Stone.

The attractive mother of the bride wore a sheer gray crepe dress, with accessories of aqua. The mother of the groom was smartly dressed in a cream crepe dress with white accessories. Both wore bouquets of pink roses. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Elsie Vernon of Owosso, also wore a pink rose corsage.

Guests were in attendance from Flint, Detroit, Ohio, Chicago, and several friends of the bride and groom from Central Michigan College.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, where the couple received many lovely gifts, opened and displayed by the bridesmaids. A delicious luncheon was served immediately after the bride and groom cut the four tiered wedding cake. Mrs. J. D. Mitchell of Novi, a close friend of the bride's family, aided in the cutting of the cake.

The couple honeymooned through northern Michigan and spent a few days at Sault Ste. Marie. They will reside in Detroit this summer and will return to Central Michigan College in the fall where they are both students.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz wish to express their appreciation for the many lovely gifts they received.

JAYCEES INSTALL NATE MIHAY AS NEW PRESIDENT

New officers of the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce were officially installed at the first annual installation banquet held last Friday evening at Huck's Redford Inn. Kenneth Heintzinger, president of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, called on all Jaycees to take an active interest in affairs of our democracy. He pointed out that citizenship should be the accepted challenge of every young man today. He stated that today more than ever before this country needs the stimulus of young men in the affairs of state.

Following Heintzinger's address he officially installed Nate Mihay as the new president of the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce. Mihay, in turn introduced the other new officers. The Installation Banquet represents the beginning of the second year of the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chuck Gronlund entertained the Jaycees and their wives on the marlinas. He was accompanied by Eileen Whitehead on the piano. Miss Whitehead also played several numbers for the group. Jim Warner served as toastmaster and gave the report of the delegates from the Farmington Jaycees who attended the National Convention in Philadelphia in June.

The past president was presented with a pen and pencil set by the members of the organization.

ament last week the contest is open to all age groups.

Next on the list of competitive events is the checker tournament to be held next week. Nine said tentative plans are being made to hold a bird house contest in conjunction with the Flower Show sponsored by the Farmington Garden Club. The show will be held Saturday, August 28, and if the contest is to be held with it, the youngsters will have to start building their bird houses soon.

Any student taking part in the recreation program may enter the contest, Nuse said. The Flower show is open to all residents of Farmington and neighboring communities.

Neighborhood Church Has Memorial Service

Honoring Mrs. J. W. Ault, who passed away last October, and whose 82nd birthday would have been July 11th, a simple, informal memorial service was held in the Neighborhood Church Sunday afternoon at 4:30. Electric fans made the room comfortable and a profusion of garden flowers added to its attractiveness.

Rev. Gordon Cameron was in charge. He spoke briefly, his theme being "Thy Must Be Born Again". One of Grandma Ault's favorite passages of Scripture, William Griffiths, from Detroit, sang, "Open the Gates of the Temple" and "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name". A fair-sized congregation was in attendance.

Those who paid homage to Mrs. Ault's memory, remembered that Grandma Martin, who had been a member of the Neighborhood Church congregation, also passed on last year.

WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS!

Yeh, that's the straight dope and I'm not choppin' my gums about Morton's Salt either. If you were in last week you know what I'm chirpin' about and just in case you didn't get in here's the latest scoop. All of a sudden we have found ourselves in a critical labor shortage - no, it hasn't anything to do with the CIO or John L. Lewis but it certainly wasn't a pleasant surprise to find our personnel cut from 8 to 5 last Thursday. That's the story - the boss took sick, Ruth was called home to Iowa and Harrison was on his vacation. It all happened in 24 hours so you can imagine what kind of complications have arisen. I guess that will be enough gripin' and I best get on with this week's best buys.

I'm not familiar with the customary chatter usually found in this ad - from what I understand you just get down-right informal and point out your terrific bargains and if the people go for them you're all set and if they don't there's always another paper next week.

I'll give you a clue, folks - the butchers are really handing you a bargain this week. They sold you all that old hamburger last week and if it didn't eat the bottom out of your frying pan you can come back and get some tender round steak at 79c. From what I hear, I guess this stuff is pretty good when fixed as Swiss steak. You know what Swiss steak is - that's just round steak in disguise. On the pork end of the meat case at 23534 Farmington Road you'll find spare ribs for Bar-B-Que, Smoked Picnic Hams and Skinned Hot Dogs all at the same atrocious price of 49c. You know I'm not so sure of that word atrocious, but I think maybe I have the correct meaning.

You've had it! This week's best buys on the grocery side are all found in the produce rack. If your garden hasn't started paying dividends, then be sure to drop by and check yourself out on our lettuce at 2/33c.

Without a doubt Cantaloupe is one of the favorite desserts of the season, so why don't you drop in and pick out a couple at 2/49c. Some of them are kinda soft on the outside but they all taste the same.

Last but not least is our offer of California White Potatoes at 79c a peck and if you eat spuds quite often then pick off a hundred pounds for only $4.90.

Well that's the end and I've done my best to tell you what's what down here. It just might be wise to drop in and take a look - never can tell what you might pick up cheap these days.
